Great Crowds Greet Aimee at First Sunday Services Since Return

VANGELIST USES RECENT ORDEAL AS SERMON TEXT

Temple Filled to Capacity and Speaking System Carries Her Voice to Overflow Crowds

Characterizing her recent experiences as a fitting parallel to the struggle of humanity to reach Jesus, with a word-picture of her plight during her five weeks of captivity and her wanderings following her escape, Aimee Sample McPherson delivered sermons yesterday afternoon and evening at Angelus Temple to a dense mass of followers, estimated at 15,000.

Capacity crowds packed the temple for both her afternoon and evening sermons. Through unable to gain admittance to the temple congregated in front of the temple, where they joined in the evening service with the installation of a public speaking system that carried the evangelist's message to the street from within the temple.

Every effort was made to accommodate the surging crowds about the temple at both services with Mrs. McPherson personally directing temple workers in their efforts to make room for the many left standing in the streets.

COMPARES SELF TO JOB
Comparing herself to Job and then to Daniel, the evangelist preached an evening sermon that was interwoven with her experiences during her captivity and subsequent escape. "Daniel," she declared, "was rescued from the lions' den but not from the lying tongues. There is lots of lying like that today."

RAYS SHACK FOUND
She contrasted the vast difference in the situations of now and a week ago, today back with her people and

From God to move—to get to a place where she could cut the ropes.

"She had an ounce of strength left, and what God added to it was sufficient to enable her to get away and move on and on until she came to friends," he continued.

The morning service was concluded by a wedding in which "Mother" Kennedy joined in marriage a young man and woman, both members of the church.

Hours before either the morning or afternoon services were to begin, hundreds lined the sidewalk for nearly a block in either direction from the main entrance.

Two thousand persons, followers of Aimee Sample McPherson, congregated in Park avenue in front of the temple in an area extending for a block that had been barred to traffic and reserved for the joy of the evangelist.

Four large amplifiers mounted on the roof of the temple, which were used in the morning service, were also used in the evening service.

On other arm were her children, Roberta Sample and Rolf McPherson. Mrs. McPherson said that she had been in the hands of a band of desperadoes who had kidnapped her.

CONDITION WEAKENED
Mrs. McPherson was reported to be weak to have an appearance at the morning service and remained absent saving her strength for the words she expected to speak during the afternoon and evening.

SHOUT HALLELUJAH
She recounted how a week ago memorial services had been conducted. "Travely, we did it, but with heavy hearts, and now it is as if she had risen from the dead."

Evangelist Returns to Pulpit

Below—Mrs. McPherson addressing a throng of children in front of her home adjoining the temple.

TEMPLE SERMON HIGHLIGHTS

Appearing before an assemblage estimated at approximately 9,000 persons, the evangelist preached her first sermon since her return from Douglas, Ariz. The high lights of the sermon as transcribed by a stenographer follow:

"I cannot tell you how happy I am to stand once again in this temple. My heart is overflowing with the joy of my Savior. Praise, three times exploded by newspaper photographers and the flash of cameras, burst forth from the temple as the evangelist, feeling like expressing an appreciation of everything."

"I think it would perhaps be unwise to give a very lengthy sermon this afternoon. I am going to give you a few more beef steaks inside of me; I haven't had any yet—nothing but orange juice. I find my breath a little short; I am not sick; I am just weak from lack of sleep and worry. I know how many of you, sent to me more quickly than right here at Angelus Temple. I am not only feeding upon the good things you have, many of you, sent to me eat—but the love, the prayers and the devotion. All this will make me stronger than anything else in the world."

"Praise the Lord, I am more persuaded now than ever before in the days of my life. Some folks think that the devil is an easy one to defeat. They don't want to be beaten; they go to church once in a while and say, 'Oh, yes, I'm a Presbyterian.' But how much have any of them ever dreamed of a line-up against Christ and the powers of good."

"The Devil has learned that he can kill the body, but not the soul. You know, even a dead fish can float down stream, but it takes a live one to swim upstream. It takes live leaves to climb a tree when the storm is blowing. If we are accomplishing things for Jesus Christ, we are going to immediately be conscious of opposition to this work. When you are wading downstream you will never feel the force of the current."

M'PHERSON CASE TOPIC FOR SHULER

Pastor Denies Authorship of Threat That Skids Were to Be Put Under Temple

Rev. "Bob" Shuler discussed the disappearance of Aimee Sample McPherson, the evangelist, at his services at Trinity Methodist Church yesterday. It was evident from his remarks that he was not in the throng-strewn flowers Saturday afternoon.

"It might be a good idea to take the collection before I make this talk," the offering will be received at this time," Mr. Shuler began.

After discussing two rumors briefly, Mr. Shuler said: "It has been rumored all over the streets that from this pulpit on the Sunday night before Mrs. McPherson disappeared I arose and said that the skids had been put under Angelus Temple."

"It so happens that I was not in this pulpit for two Sundays preceding the disappearance of Mrs. McPherson—not in any pulpit. I was on a train one Sunday and the other I was in Memphis."

Mr. Shuler had something to say regarding commercialism and religion. He turned to a consideration of the Biblical stories of Daniel in the lions' den and Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego in the fiery furnace. He said he had heard Mrs. McPherson's sermon yesterday afternoon and she compared her own case with the Biblical happenings.

Mrs. McPherson said, Mr. Shuler continued, that the three Hebrews came out of the fiery furnace without being hurt and catching the heat, or cactus is either a miracle or an alternative, he intimated.

Mr. Shuler touched lightly on "The Under-Shepherd." He said he could produce the Mayor of the city, the Sheriff's men, the Fire Department, the Police Department—30,000 people to greet her."

Referring to the investigation, Mr. Shuler said: "I challenge Mr. Cline and the District Attorney's office to make an investigation, assigning men who will make it from an unbiased point of view."

ADOBE HOME NOT PRISON OF PASTOR

Description of Evangelist's Asserted Detention Place Fails to Tally With Story

DOUGLAS (Ariz.) June 28. (AP)—Lieut. Gaffney, one of the members of the posse that believed it had located the shack in which Mrs. Aimee Sample McPherson was kept prisoner of abduction in Sonora, declared today that the place was not a prison, but a home, and that it was not the shack.

KEYS ACTS IN PASTOR'S CASE

Looney's office in the case of the abduction of Aimee Sample McPherson, the evangelist, was closely watched. The woman was seen in the church on the Sunday afternoon.

"When I read the account in the papers of the abduction of Aimee Sample McPherson, the evangelist, I was shocked. I had never heard of her before."

Whether the case was a hoax or a genuine abduction, the woman who was seen in the church on the Sunday afternoon was not the same woman who was seen in the church on the Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Kennedy continued, that the three Hebrews came out of the fiery furnace without being hurt and catching the heat, or cactus is either a miracle or an alternative, he intimated.

Mr. Shuler touched lightly on "The Under-Shepherd." He said he could produce the Mayor of the city, the Sheriff's men, the Fire Department, the Police Department—30,000 people to greet her."

FASCISTS SHOW BANK SCANDAL

Prominent Figures Implicated

Count Attempts Suicide at Time of Arrest

Corrupt Handling of Funds Far-reaching

ROMA, June 27. (AP)—Secretary-General of the Fascist party has uncovered a huge banking scandal involving a score of persons, high in the party councils under the rule of Benito Mussolini, whom the secretary-general has accused of corruption.

The far-reaching significance of the scandal, which concerns primarily the alleged corrupt handling of funds of the recently defunct Fascist Bank of Parma, is indicated by the fact that one of those implicated is Benito Mussolini's brother-in-law, Count Galeazzo Ciano.

Count Galeazzo Ciano, former president of the bank, was arrested at his home in Rome, where he was found with a revolver in his hand.

TREASURE CAVE HUNT REVIVED

GRAVETTE (Ark.) June 27.—At Spanish Treasure Cave, northeast of here, a survey is being made by scientists employed by W. W. Knight of Kansas City, the owner. The late G. W. Dunbar, twenty-five years ago, attracted attention to the cave when he acquired it and began extensive excavations in search of gold treasure, which an old Spaniard told him had been cached there. A map whittled on the cave indicated that it had once been used by human beings. But nowhere was gold discovered. Knight was interested and after Dunbar's death, became the owner of the cave and has continued the quest intermittently.

pointed out by the semi-official Popolo di Roma which says that Parma is overjoyed and placated with the news.

"The duke will prevail," "Gentlemen in fascism, thieves in jail."

USES DRASTIC METHODS

The paper adds "Until the arrests, the duke believed that nobody dared to touch his property."

Although this is the most sensational, it is not the first step that the duke has taken to clear up the situation left over, as he puts it, by the Fascist regime. Many deputies have been expelled or suspended from the party, provincial party directors have been dissolved in many places, while dozens of representatives of the present administration, with almost unlimited powers, are busy cleaning house throughout the nation.

DOMESTIC TRIANGLE LEADS TO TRAGEDY

CHICAGO, June 27. (Exclusive)—Refusing to give up his pretty neighbor, Irene Anderson, and return to his wife and two little children, Lew Goldman, 29 years of age, prominent building contractor of Gary, Ind., today decided to poison his sweet-heart and then take his own life.

As a result Goldman is dead as his house in Gary, Ind. is in a serious condition at her home two blocks away.

Mrs. Mary Conley Thaw, mother of Harry K. Thaw, recently celebrated her eighty-third birthday surrounded by her children.

While the Senate is disposing of the farm bill controversy, the House will resume consideration tomorrow of the last deficiency bill, with a view to a vote not later than Tuesday. After that there is no set program, as the House will be ready to adjourn as soon as the Senate has acted on the measure.

With Senate action on the deficiency bill, House leaders will be ready to submit the adjournment resolution, adoption of which was blocked recently under the leadership of the Appropriations Committee, who opposed the fixing of a date for adjournment until final action had been taken both on farm relief and the deficiency measure.

FIVE KILLED BY STRIKERS AT CANTON

Pickers Fire Into Group of Chinese Attempting to Sail to Hongkong

CANTON (China) June 27. (AP)—Pickets enforcing the anti-British strike and boycott against Hongkong killed five persons and wounded another yesterday when they fired into a group of Chinese about to board a vessel for Hongkong. The strikers attempted to prevent all Cantonese from going to the British port. The activity of the strike pickets has increased recently, largely, it is believed, because of the deadlock of negotiations between the Canton government and the British authorities at Hongkong for settlement of the strike, which has lasted for more than a year.

Shooting incidents have been frequent, the pickets firing on Chinese trying to reach Hongkong-bound boats or to place cargoes on these vessels. Hongkong is only seventy-eight miles from Canton, down the Canton River. Foreign vessels lying off Canton are closely watched by foreign gunboats, which play searchlights on them at night to prevent surprise attacks.

The strikers, who came to Canton from Hongkong last year when anti-British feeling was at its height, are usually estimated at 20,000. The pickets are their own police force, enforcing the boycott and set practically independently of the authorities of Canton.

COUNCIL EXPECTED TO COVER REPAIR DEFICIT

The City Council is expected to approve this week a request for an appropriation of $800 to cover the deficit in the fund for the repair of the fleet of limousines and other automobiles maintained for the use of the Council. Repairs on the cars exhausted the fund set aside for this purpose so that to place the cars in condition to continue to operate for the remainder of the fiscal year, an extra, special appropriation of $800 will be necessary.

SESSION-ENDING HOPE RENEWED

Congressional Leaders Plan to Adjourn Saturday

Farm Relief to be Brought to Vote in Senate

House to Occupy Time With Deficiency Bill

WASHINGTON, June 27. (AP)—With the hope that farm legislation can be disposed of this week, Republican leaders of the House and Senate are preparing for the adjournment of Congress next Saturday.

This program contemplates the postponement until the next and last session of the rivers and harbors bill, local legislation, the French debt settlement and a number of other matters of importance now on the calendar.

A final vote on the farm-relief bill in the Senate is looked for by Tuesday and with that idea in view, House leaders are leaving Wednesday open for action on whatever measure the Senate puts through.

TO PRESS ACTION

Administration leaders are to press the Farm-Tincher amendment to the House co-operative marketing bill with the hope that President Coolidge's approval of this farm-relief plan can swing a majority for it as a substitute for the defeated McNary-Hawes measure.

Leaders of the farm group on the Republican side are disappointed with this substitute and predict that it will be rejected and that the only legislation that will meet Senate approval is the House co-operative marketing bill, which was approved by the Senate Agricultural Committee.

After farm legislation is out of the way the Senate will turn its attention to the Dill radio control bill, providing for a separate government commission to control air communication, which was made a special order some days ago.

HOUSE PROGRAM

While the Senate is disposing of the farm bill controversy, the House will resume consideration tomorrow of the last deficiency bill, with a view to a vote not later than Tuesday. After that there is no set program, as the House will be ready to adjourn as soon as the Senate has acted on the measure.

The United States Public Health Service is sponsoring the health conference, and preparing the tentative program. Public health officials of twenty-one American republics are expected to participate. The topics of discussion will include prevention and treatment of certain wide-spread and radical diseases, such as leprosy, malaria, and hookworm, and quarantine conditions in various nations, public sanitation, and health laws and their administration.

RENOMINATIONS EASY THIS YEAR

Defects of Representatives in Primaries Few

Country Satisfied With Work of House, Votes Show

Eight Out of 133 Refused Chance at New Term

WASHINGTON, June 27. (Exclusive)—National headquarters of the two major political parties checking up on the results of primary elections so far are interested and in some cases amazed at the comparative ease with which members of the House of Representatives are obtaining renominations. Primary contests so far have been conducted in eleven States wherein are a total of 133 Congressional Representatives.

These eleven States include types from every geographical section except the Southwest, so that the results thus far are assumed to be a good index of the country's approval of the present House. The 133 seats are a little less than one-third of the total membership of 435. In these districts 118 of the present Representatives have been renominated, and thus one out of the 133 have actually been defeated. This small proportion of defeats is almost unique in political annals.

ALL BUT ONE RENAMED
In South Dakota all three Representatives all Republicans were renominated with hardly a trace of opposition.

Illinois representation in the House numbers twenty-seven, twenty-five allocated to districts and two chosen at large. In the present Congress Illinois has twenty-two Republicans and five Democrats. Twenty-one of the Republicans and all five Democrats were renominated. Representative Frank M. Punt, Republican, of the Seventeenth District, now serving his third term, was defeated for renomination by Homer W. Hall, Bloomington, on issues purely political in character and incident to the national struggle for control in that State.

Indiana has thirteen Representatives in Congress, three Democrats and ten Republicans. All thirteen were renominated. The only serious contest was in the ninth district where Representative Fred S. Purnell was subjected to a vigorous attack. He won, however, four to one.

Pennsylvania's thirty-six seats in the House are now all held by Republicans, twenty-two of whom were renominated. Six present members were not candidates for renomination.

Oregon's three representatives, all Republicans: North Carolina's ten, all Democrats, and Iowa's eleven, all Republicans, were renominated and all by substantial majorities. The only Iowa Congressman who had a real fight was Representative Hagen, joint author of the pending farm relief bill.

Minnesota has four Representatives in Congress, three Democrats, and one Republican. Three of the Democrats were renominated, Representative Smithwick, third district, however, was defeated, for his vote in favor of the Federal inheritance tax law.

Minnesota's delegation in the House numbers ten, of whom seven are Republicans, one Independent and two Democrats. Eight of the Republicans and the two Democrats are renominated.

There was a hard fight for the nomination in the sixth New Jersey district between the present member, Randolph Perkins, a dry, and E. D. McClave, a wet, backed by the Edge organization. Representative Perkins won by more than 10,000.

Maine has four seats in the House, all held by Republicans who were renominated without serious difficulty.

Minnesota's delegation in the House numbers ten, of whom seven are Republicans, one Independent and two Democrats. Eight of the Republicans and the two Democrats are renominated.

CLAIMANTS OF CLARK FORTUNE ATTEND HEARING

BUTTE (Mont.) June 27. (Exclusive)—With the trial of their suit to determine heirship to the $47,000,000 estate of the late Senator William A. Clark, set for tomorrow morning in District Court here, Alma E. Clark Hines, wife of Clark McWilliams and Addie L. Clark Miller of Missouri, who seek daughters' shares in the estate, arrived in Butte late last night.

The clerk of the court already has received the depositions of more than a score of nonresident witnesses whose testimony will be introduced by counsel for the Clark estate in an attempt to show that Senator Clark was not the William A. Clark who is said to have married the Missouri claimant's mother in 1899, later deserting his wife and children.

TAXPAYERS POINT TO INCREASE IN LEVIES

PHOENIX, June 27. (Exclusive)—The high cost of government in Arizona is set forth by the Arizona Taxpayers' Association, which presents figures intended to influence the taxpayer and voter. The State and most of the counties have assessment values many times above those of 1913, when the State was relatively low. Valuations, was 49 1/2 cents on each $100, compared with 78 cents last year. Only one large county, Cochise, has kept its rate down to 53 cents, this by large mine assessments. Maricopa, the most populous of the counties, has a rate of 61 1/2 cents, compared with 56 1/2 cents in 1913. It has no millage of tax importance.

HEALTH OFFICER ARRESTS SELF

San Antonio Man Books Own Name After Motor Collision

SAN ANTONIO, June 27. (Exclusive)—City Health Officer H. C. Perrow has the distinction of being the first officer to arrest himself for negligent collision. After a collision with a truck on St. Mary's street, Perrow placed himself and Robert Jung, driver of the truck, under arrest.

Delivering both prisoners to the police station near by, Perrow booked himself and fellow-prisoner for negligent collision. Both men signed bonds for appearance in Corporation Court.

Writer of Love Note Fatal to Two Identified

NEW YORK, June 27. (Exclusive)—Light was thrown on the identity of the man whose love letters precipitated the deaths of Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Erskine Brewster when it was learned that his name was Radcliffe. Radcliffe, too, is the name of the man who leased postoffice box No. 85 in Parrot, Chihuahua, Mex., according to newspaper investigators in Parrot. That was part of the address at the top of the letter—the letter which caused Brewster to kill himself and his young wife.

Beyond their assurance of the identity of the American who leased the postoffice box, the Mexican inhabitants of the mining town could tell little. Radcliffe was known as an engineer or prospector. But no one in Parrot had seen him for more than a month. It was a month ago, May 25—when he wrote his fatal letter to Mrs. Brewster.

ARIZONA JAILS CROWDED

PRESCOTT (Ariz.) June 27. (Exclusive)—Available jails in Arizona are jammed with Federal prisoners. A limit has been reached even in the prison here, which is situated on the top story of the County Court house. It was built for seventy-eight prisoners, and now holds 148. So Judge Jacobs of the United States Court has been compelled to take notice of the congestion and has been fining many convicted men instead of inflicting jail sentences.

Don't tie your wiring job to a derby hat

DON'T tie up to a man who keeps his business in his hat, if you want an electrical job done right.

The electrical contracting business requires a well-stocked shop with an experienced crew—and a real contractor, not a side-line dabbler. The established contractor is easily located whenever you want him, but not so the derby hat variety.

This city has plenty of capable contractors—men who do good work and use only the best materials. For quality supplies and speedy delivery these men count on Graybar. If you don't know who or where these contractors are, phone or write us—we'll be glad to tell you.

GRiffin's HOMER KNOTS
COUNT IN SECOND GAME

Seraphs Annex Opener, 5-4, When
Monk Rally in Ninth is Short;
Final Tussle Five Innings

BY ROBERT RAY

After winning the first three games from the Angels this week, Walter Schmidt's Monks left here for Seattle last night to break even in the series. The Monks dropped the opener at Wrigley Field yesterday by a 5-to-4 score and barely edged a 2-to-1 tie in the afterpiece, Wes Griffin saving the victory from almost certain defeat in the last inning when he hit a home run after two were out and knotted the count. The clincher was cut short to five frames to allow the Monks to catch a train and Griffin's clout came in the fifth.

The largest crowd of the season, 10,000 fans, was lured to Wrigley by the close contests played by the Monks and Angels all week, and all those present got to see two more exciting battles. After the Angels had gotten off to a winning start in the eighth and ninth, scoring four times in the two frames and giving the fans a big thrill by the close contests played by the Monks and Angels all week, and all those present got to see two more exciting battles.

FLOWERS TO FIGHT HUFFMAN

Dick Donald Signs Up
Ring Stars for Bout at Ascot Next Month

Tiger Flowers, Georgia negro, who won the middleweight championship of the world from Harry Greb a few months ago, will meet Eddie Huffman, champion of Los Angeles, in a bout at Ascot Speedway either July 17 or July 24, according to an announcement by Donald yesterday afternoon following a telegram from Walk Muller, manager of Flowers, confirming the agreement made by telephone Saturday night.

Flowers is considered by boxing men the greatest box-office attraction in the ring game and the announcement of his appearance in Los Angeles will be hailed with much satisfaction by thousands of ring fans who have never seen the talented colored boy in action. The title will not be at stake in the contest but both New York, Chicago and California clubs have been after the Huffman-Flowers match. All the local clubs have been angling for the contest as well as the promoters who wanted to open their new arena with it after the Huffman-Carpenter battle was called off. Promoter Donald will announce a definite date for the battle within the next day or two. Donald is busy signing up two more ten-round fights to complete his card. The promoter will present the show at popular prices the same as at his opening show last summer and expects a house of at least $60,000 to watch the card.

Tennis Champion Advised to Drop Out of Title Matches at Wimbledon; Miss Ryan Also Out

WIMBLEDON, (Eng.) June 27. (AP)—There is no certainty of either Miss Ryan or Miss Lengien appearing on the Wimbledon tennis courts tomorrow. Although Suzanne was out of doors today, her doctor is still urging her to abandon the tournament. To her friends she insists she is eager to continue and is minded to disobey the doctor's orders so as not to disappoint the Wimbledon spectators. Miss Lengien will make her final decision in the morning and if she is unable to meet Miss Claire Beckenham in the third round of the women's singles, it is understood that she will not ask any further indulgence but will scratch. Inquiry at Miss Ryan's residence disclosed that she was feeling better but was still weak. The nature of Miss Ryan's illness has not been made public beyond the fact that for a time she had a temperature of 102 deg. indicating a rather serious condition temporarily at least. It was said she expected to play tomorrow if on her feet. The commotion over the French woman star's doings has overshadowed the serious tennis battles in the various divisions, but the fact remains that the tournament has reached a highly interesting stage in the men's singles with the last night, which includes Howard Kinsley, the only remaining American contestant in this class, fully rounded out.

The last eight players in the men's singles are opposed as follows: Howard Kinsley vs. P. D. E. Spence; C. H. Kinsley vs. Jacques Brugnon; Henri Cochet vs. J. C. Gregory; and J. Borotra vs. J. Kosenhul, the Czechoslovakian crack player. The battle in the women's singles is not so far advanced, as only five of the last eight have definitely come through, these being Benoit De Alvarez, Spain; Mrs. Molla Mallory, United States; Miss Bouman, Holland; Miss Costello, France, and (Continued on Page 2, Column 5)

TEVA REACHES HONOLULU

HONOLULU, June 27. —Less than twenty minutes too late to snatch the leading position in the long San Pedro-Honolulu yacht race, the Teva, owned by Clem Stone of the San Diego Yacht Club, crossed the finish line here at 12:51:35 o'clock this afternoon, fourth of the contestants to finish. Had the Teva finished before 12:33 she would have taken first place from the scratch boat, Don Lee's Invader, which came in Thursday and overtook the Teva in a handicap of 72 hours 15 minutes. Only one boat was still in the race, Jim Dickson's Jubilo, from which no word has been received. Her handicap limit expires at 10:02 Tuesday morning.

Wisconsin Oarsmen Dark Horses of Big Regatta

POUGHKEEPSIE (N. Y.) June 27. (AP)—Led by the stalwart oarsmen of the University of Washington, the rowing Argonauts of the Far West are girded for the greatest bid they have ever made to sweep the intercollegiate championship regatta tomorrow. This prospect of a triumphant western advance all along the line stood out conspicuously tonight, the eve of the twenty-ninth "open championship" regatta of the Intercollegiate Rowing Association, as a record array of nineteen crews finished their drills for the most spectacular college naval battle ever held. The West will be outnumbered with six headless lined up against thirteen rival eastern combinations, but the consensus of expert opinion concedes the invader at least an even chance of coming through triumphant in all three contests to be held tomorrow afternoon for varsity, junior varsity and freshman supremacy. Washington is the main hope of the West and critics after dissecting and weighing all the vital factors concerned have established them as slight favorites over the Naval Academy in the four-mile varsity race, the blue-ribbon feature, as well as picking them to carry off first honors in the junior varsity pull for the second straight year. California, with crews in all three (Continued on Page 2, Column 5)

Thirty-eight Seconds' Margin of Ayres Victory

San Clemente Race Greatest Held This Season

Lee's Pirate Nosed Out by Speedy Patricia

Thirty-eight seconds isn't much, anybody's time, but yesterday afternoon that many ticks on the clock cost W. W. Pedder's champion schooner Diablo her third straight victory in the annual 130-mile San Clemente Island race. Don Ayres' new schooner Monsoon, a forty-fourer with the looks and qualities of a victor, won by just that margin after a remarkable race through fog-bomb waters. Later in the afternoon Pierpont Davis' R-class sloop Patricia, skippered by Ted Conant, nosed out Tommy Lee's First by fifty-four seconds to win the eighth race and championship of the California Yacht Club. The fifteen-knot breeze that kicked up the Pacific in the morning died down as the afternoon progressed, and the Pat was barely making headway as she crossed the finish line. Altogether the day furnished ideal conditions for the keenest sport of the year. Both finishes were the closest recorded in championship races for a long time. At 11:30, the committee boat sighted the Diablo through a thick slash of fog. A muggy wind was so wet was ruffling the water considerably and the Diablo was eating up the knots at a great pace. Pedder had his nerve with him and the Diablo was faunting a flood of sail that heeled her over nearly to the keel. Every man of the crew was hanging (Continued on Page 2, Column 5)

A grammatical error would throw Smith into a frenzied mania. At the age of nine his grandmother said "ain't," and he pursued her around the block with a hatchet. "It was me," his mother uttered one day.

Summer's Little Drawback
An impulse to avoid a picnic at any cost may be a sign that a man is getting old, but to give in and attend one without a struggle is proof of it. "There are 19 Additional"

"There are 204 telephones in operation in the city. Besides these, there are 19 additional in the towns of Los Angeles and San Bernardino counties." L. A. "Evening Express", Dec. 19, 1923

THE telephone was first introduced in Los Angeles in 1882, with only a handful of users. Early telephone service here, elsewhere, was a purely local affair.

Later on came the development of connecting telephone lines in various sections, with the result that today practically every individual telephone has long distance connection all over the country.

Electrical interconnection of power lines among electric utilities has developed along the same lines as our wide-spread telephone service.

Electrical interconnection's purpose is to make available, when needed, surplus electric power of one utility to the consumers on other companies' lines.

Through such a system of electrical interconnection of electric utilities from Canada to Mexico, every electric meter on the lines of Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation has available, if ever needed, the electric power resources of every great power plant on the Pacific Coast.

FRANCO-BRITISH PACT POSSIBLE

England Views Alliance as Defense Measure

Must Retain Control Over Mediterranean

Conference on Protection of Nation Nears

LONDON, June 27. (Exclusive)—The British Cabinet and Secretariat is now busy preparing material for the coming imperial conference in October, at which the most important question to be submitted to the empire is that of imperial defense. According to the plan outlined by experts, the question falls into three categories, namely:

1. Defense of Britain, the mother-country and heart of the empire.
2. Defense of the imperial routes.
3. Defense of the dominions and colonies.

The first two questions are considered the most pressing and those, which are to be put forward by British experts, involve: First a continued and closer entente with France, and, second, control of the Mediterranean, which is the spinal cord of British communications. The view of experts is that Britain must either provide men and money for unlimited armaments or form a closer alliance with France or Italy, or both, or, if it must choose, with France rather than Italy. The reason for this preference is that France has all the territories she wants or can use, and therefore would be unlikely to demand as much, other than guarantees of security of these possessions, while Italy has many unsettled aspirations of expansion and would be likely to put the price of her support high. This, it should be said, is the view of military experts and has not necessarily been adopted by diplomats who have been working recently in close collaboration with Italy.

Military experts, however, are very insistent that it is necessary to form a close Franco-British collaboration on the Mediterranean policy, which, if carried out, might bring Britain into disagreement with Italy, which is jealous of French power on this sea. It is believed that the postponed visit of President Doumergue of France to London is planned to give an opportunity for a public announcement by the President and King of close Franco-British amity.

Son Wins Suit Over Million Dollar Estate

SAN FRANCISCO, June 27. (AP)—After three years of litigation, the will of Mrs. Carmel Fallon, pioneer San Franciscan, bequeathing her estate valued at $1,000,000 to her daughter, Mrs. Annie Malone, was declared invalid by a jury in Superior Court.

As a result of the verdict the estate will be distributed in accordance with a previous will whereby the bulk of the property was left in trust for son. The jury decided Mrs. Fallon was of unbalanced mind when she executed the final will and that Mrs. Malone had exerted undue influence over her.

Juries in two previous trials disagreed. Counsel for Mrs. Malone indicated a new trial will be sought.

Shoulder Blade of Prehistoric Elephant Found

TUCSON, June 27. (AP)—Discovery of a giant shoulder blade of a prehistoric elephant, probably a mammoth, estimated to be at least 35,000 years old, in a mine site twenty-five miles southwest of here has brought to light one of the most important fossil finds in the Southwest. It was announced by Dr. Byron Cummings, director of the Arizona State Museum.

The large bone, almost completely fossilized, was exhumed by Dr. Cummings, who is also professor of archaeology at the University of Arizona. Capt. D. W. Page, archaeologist of Washington, D. C., and Charles Udall, owner of the mining tract.

EAST TEXAS STARTS SONG RENAISSANCE

ASSOCIATION ENJOYS RENDERING OLD HYMNS WHILE THROUGHS LISTEN

LUFKIN (Tex.), June 27. (Exclusive)—East Texas is leading the way in the renaissance of song after the manner of the forefathers. R. J. Behannon, president of the Sacred Harp Singing Convention, said. The convention reconvened here for its annual rendition of old-time hymns.

Founded some eighteen years ago, the organization of singers met with scant success at first, Behannon said, but now the organization embraces five counties, Angelina, Cherokee, Nacogdoches, Shelby and San Augustine. Its annual meetings draw such throngs that "not a building in East Texas is large enough to accommodate the crowds," he declared. It was estimated 2000 persons attended the last meeting.

SPAIN WONDERS AT WALES VISIT

Report of Intended Sojourn Stirs Speculation

Possibilities of Marriage to Princess Sighted

Difference in Church Creeds May Mean Barrier

MADRID (Spain) June 27. (Exclusive)—Reports of an intended visit of the Prince of Wales to the summer palace of the royal family at Sanlúcar, following the visit of King Alfonso and Queen Victoria to England, is arousing much speculation as to the possibility of his marriage to one of the charming Spanish "infantas," as they are affectionately called by Spaniards.

As yet no intimations have been made of marital plans for the prince, who still is quite young. Princess Beatrice is 17 years of age and is considered one of the beauties of European royal houses and greatly resembles her mother, who is famed for her regal grace and great charm.

The younger sister, Princess Christina, 15, is more Spanish with her dark hair and eyes, contrasting with the fairness of Princess Beatrice.

ONLY TWO REMAIN—Only two Catholic houses are left in Europe—those of Belgium and Italy—with prince who are possible suitors for the hand of Beatrice or Christina. But if it proves impossible to marry them to the Protestant royal houses, the infantas may set a precedent for Spain which already was set for England in the case of the Duke of York and Princess Mary, wedding their own countrymen of great princely families.

While it is the custom of the Spanish royal family to marry extremely young, there is speculation over the coming visit of the Prince of Wales. The heir to the throne of Spain, the Prince of Asturias, has just passed his nineteenth birthday, but his delicate health makes necessary postponement of any matrimonial projects.

MILLIONS DEPOSITED IN BANKS AT SCHOOLS

PUPILS IN UNITED STATES HAVE SAVINGS ACCOUNTS TOTALING $30,000,000

As educational director of the American Society for Thrift, and chairman of the National Educational Association's national committee on thrift education, Mr. Chamberlain reports upon the spread of thrift throughout schools of the nation, and its practical effect in encouraging student earning and saving, is expected to feature the congress.

SEEK TREASURE IN VANCOUVER

Gold, Silver and Platinum Believed Buried Under Residence

VANCOUVER (B. C.) June 27. (Exclusive)—A fourteen-month search for $50,000 in buried treasure in the heart of a thickly settled section of the city, has been revealed here.

George Anderson, "willow-wind wizard," and F. Clark, originated the search in April, 1925. Anderson said. The scene of the hunt is the old Leopard place, now owned by the widow of Hugh McDonald. Years ago a miner named Smith lived in the old house on the place. He refused to use banks. When ill he told Dr. Edward Hall he had buried $50,000 in gold, silver and platinum so that it could never be found. Shortly afterward he died.

The willow indicated minerals under the house. Now Anderson has a shaft down sixty feet and has struck an old tunnel containing sand and, strangely enough, driftwood. There are traces of gold in the sand.

Electric pumps are at work keeping the shaft and tunnel clear of water while the search goes on.

Court Decides Cause Pending Six Centuries

PARIS, June 27. (Exclusive)—The Court of Appeals at Aix en Provence has just gotten around to the setting of a lawsuit instituted 600 years ago. The suit concerned ownership of 12,000 acres of rich pasture lands at Cour, near the Italian border, a former domain of the royal house of Anjou, which was first involved in the litigation in the year 1372. Three communes have since been disputing possession of the valuable lands.

The Court of Appeals decided it should be divided, ending a case which is something like a record, even in this part of the world, where courts are not noted for their speed.

A local statistician figured out that lawyers' fees during the centuries the case has been fought out in the courts during a half-dozen regimes would have sufficed to buy the property twenty-one times over.

A year ago he was much in the public notice through his activities in prohibition enforcement.

GIRL'S DEATH LAID TO VENDETTA FEUD

LAFORTE (Ind.) June 27. (P.)—Rose Maglio, 13 years of age, daughter of an Italian shoemaker, was mysteriously shot here late yesterday, as the result, police believe, of a vendetta. The girl was walking home from her father's shop when she was shot and instantly killed. Sylvator Maglio, the girl's father, and a sister refused to give the police any information.

Mrs. Agnes Rex of Grand Forks, N. D., in charge of Juvenile Court work in that city, graduated recently with her son from the same university.

PUBLIC FAVORS MADRID REBELS

Sudden Revolt Flare-up Sole Capital Topic

More Than 200 Conspirators Under Guard

Reports Indicate Uprising Ready in Provinces

MADRID (Via Spanish frontier)—June 26. (Delayed) (Exclusive)—Despite the government's attempts to prevent publicity being given to the conspiracy to overthrow the Spanish directorate, the sudden flare of rebellion in the capital. As far as can be ascertained, the popular sympathy is in favor of the conspirators, who, it now is confirmed, are under guard to a number of well more than 200.

The secret police of the directorate still are scouring Madrid on the trail of the plotters, under the direction of Minister of the Interior Martinez, who is famed for his iron rule in Catalonia in 1923 during the separatist troubles when he established and put into effect a grim order that two rebels should pay with their lives for every loyalist killed by the separatists.

The greatest secrecy surrounds the recent manifesto issued calling for the suppression of the directorate and the assembling of the Cortes, which, falling into the hands of the police, precipitated a lightning roundup of the conspirators. Those who have seen the document, however, report that it is a carefully-phrased, damaging diatribe against the directorate, evidently written by well-informed persons.

Reports seeping through from Tarragona, Cadix and other provinces, despite the cast-iron censorship, state that everything is prepared there for a military uprising. All communications with Barcelona and Valencia promptly cut by orders of the government, when the plot was discovered, only now are being restored under the most careful censorship, however.

Contrary to the indications yesterday that Gen. Gullera and Col. Segura Garcia were caught, the rebel pair seems to have succeeded in hurriedly leaving Madrid and have headed for some of the asserted insurgent provinces. Their whereabouts at present are not known.

A group of the most powerful generals who opposed Gen. Primo De Rivera in the recent trouble between the directorate and the Junta now are here. Among them are Gen. Cavañani Berenhuer and Rear-Admiral Antonio Magasay Pera, who is Ambassador to the Vatican. All are here presumably on private business and although they are not implicated in the plot thus far, their presence is believed to be fraught with significant consequences if the conspiracy has succeeded.

This Quality Standard Six Coach is offered you at this low price because of Studebaker's Unique One-Profit Facilities.

HERE, in this One-Profit Studebaker Coach at $1415, is motor-car value at its highest peak. In rated horse-power—there isn't a car in the world of its size and weight to equal it. In important refinements and quality-car features—it stands head and shoulders above anything in its price class.

To prove its remarkable power and the almost unbelievable ease with which it parks, steers and drives—you need only spend a few minutes at the wheel. It will win you as it has won thousands.

More power at less cost—according to the rating of the Society of Automotive Engineers, the Standard Six Coach is the world's most powerful car of its size and weight. Twenty-eight makes of five-passenger enclosed models, which cost from $100 to $5455 more than the Standard Six Coach, have less rated power.

Full-size balloon tires—with specially designed steering gear. Steering and driving qualities unsurpassed.

Finer body construction—first grade northern white ash and hard maple are used in the body frames. Body joints are mortised, tenoned, glued or screwed.

Costly alloy steels—we pay a premium to secure steels of extra quality. A bar of Studebaker steel the diameter of a dime will stand greater strain than a bar of ordinary steel the diameter of a dollar. This insures greater dependability with longer life and lower upkeep costs. 1925 factory repair parts sales averaged only $10 per car in operation.

Completely machined crankshaft—a feature usually found only in the highest priced cars. It costs Studebaker $600,000 a year to perform the extra machining. But it reduces engine vibration to a minimum and thereby produces notable smoothness of engine operation.

Automatic spark control regulated by the speed of the engine. The spark lever is thus made obsolete and is replaced on the steering wheel by the safety lighting switch.

Coincidental lock to ignition and steering gear. A single key operates this lock as well as the lock on the door and spare-tire carrier.

Water-proof ignition—the wiring to the engine is doubly insulated in fiber conduit—and rubber shields cover each spark plug, the distributor head and coil.

Oil filter, gas strainer and air cleaner seal the engine against foreign matter, insuring highest degree of engine efficiency.

Oil drain valve is conveniently located under the hood. Oil may be drained without getting under the car.

Complete equipment includes gasoline gauge on dash, automatic windshield cleaner, rear-view mirror, dome light and stop light.

Workmanship

Last year 15,723 Studebaker employees received checks for 5 to 10 per cent of their annual earnings as "dividends on wages." Because this plan reduces expensive labor turnover, because it makes for greater loyalty and efficiency, your Studebaker is a cheerfully built, better-value automobile.

One-Profit Savings

Give you these fine-car features in the lowest priced car ever offered by Studebaker.

FEW motor car "manufacturers" foundries, forgings, castings, etc., cost one-third of a car's cost is in the engine. Even less in the body. Studebaker builds all its own engines, all chutes, gear sets, differentials, steering gears, brakes, iron castings and drop forgings. Studebaker in the fine-car field enjoys complete manufacturing facilities.

These facilities enable Studebaker to produce quality cars on a One-Profit basis, eliminating outside profits. The savings are passed on to Studebaker in the form of higher quality and lower prices.

Unit-Built construction

Studebaker facilities result in designed, engineered and built in hundreds of parts in a Studebaker car as a smooth-working unit, resulting in thousands of miles of engine operation, greater riding comfort and lower sale value.

Always kept up-to-date

Direct manufacturing control enables Studebaker to keep cars constantly up-to-date. We add improvements regularly to our calendar—we do not save them for a special annual announcement. "He stole my girl," said Wayne Scott, arrested in connection with the case. Police are seeking the other boys.

TRUCKS REPLACE COW RUSTLERS

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.), June 27. (Exclusive)—Cattle thieving in Texas is accomplished through the use of modern conveniences. Ranger Captain Aldrich, said Thursday, and the number stolen will compare with those taken by the old-time two-gun rustlers. Now the cattle thieves drive a truck along a highway near a herd of cattle, goats or sheep, throw a rope over an animal, hit it in the head with an ax and throw the carcass in the truck. Several animals are taken. Capt. Aldrich said, and a tarpaulin is thrown over them. Under the search-and-seizure law, officers are not allowed to look under the tarpaulin without subjecting themselves to prosecution although they suspect the truck. Incidentally the truck within an hour can be thirty miles from the scene of the theft and there are crooks even among butchers, Capt. Aldrich said. A herd can soon be depleted through the theft of three or four animals each night by several groups of thieves, Capt. Aldrich pointed out.

American Creations Feature
French Fashion Show

PARIS, June 27. (Exclusive)—Three picturesque coaches, reminiscent of the day when the horse was king and motor cars were but a possibility, courageously rattled up the Avenue Du Bois De Boulogne and through the Bois to the Autouil race course.

Dignified old gentlemen, to whom the heyday of the horse seemed but yesterday, drove the graceful coaches with a greater skill than it was ever necessary to display in former years, for the route was jammed with high-powered automobiles on their way to the Prix De Drag, the most fashionable race meet of the Paris season.

As if in a final tribute to that which came along before them, the coaches went slowly by colorfully mounted by smartly gowned women and men whose costumes included morning coats and gray top hats.

The time was when thousands of spectators lined the Champs Elysees and the Avenue Du Bois to watch the gay procession of several dozen coaches—each driven by an outstanding figure in French society. The war stopped all this, and all Paris wondered if the old custom would ever be revived. Several times since the armistice brave attempts have been made to re-establish this prewar display but apparently coaches were doomed to disappear entirely.

Few persons expected a single one to turn out this year but three "die-hards" surprised the large crowd, including many American visitors, which gathered to see such relics of the empire days. "An overcast sky and a chill wind had an ill effect upon Drag day so far as the traditional fashion show was concerned. The day has always been the smartest 'grande semaine' and while hundreds of beautifully dressed women were there, the ensemble was disappointing.

One incident which interested the French was the first invasion of what has always been a 100 per cent French fashion show by American style creators. A pretty American dancer in popular Montmartre dancing places appeared at Autouil in an original silk creation of a New York manufacturer.

One thing appeared certain from the parade of mannequins and that is that women are going in for every color in the rainbow this summer. Crepe de chine dresses in flowered effects and designs of all kinds were in the 'secondary' while hats are larger than they have been for several seasons.

There is nobody in Poland that seriously would think of introducing a dictatorship and abandoning the democratic principles of government.

SEARCH OF MINES
Fails to Reveal
Trace of Broker

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent
LONG BEACH, June 27.—Search today of mine shafts and placer diggings ten miles north of Barrow for the body of Keith S. Peters, missing Long Beach man, proved futile and the searchers, Howard Johnson, son-in-law of Peters, Detective Sergeant Smith and Albert White of Long Beach, a prospector, returned to town. The search was conducted there because White, attempting to descend an abandoned mine shaft, smelt an odor of putrefaction. The searchers found the odor but no body.

Peters, who lived at 710 Newport avenue, and was a broker, left Barrow the 2nd inst., for Death Valley Junction on a business trip. When last seen he had a stranger in his car with him. Later the car was seen proceeding through Cave Springs with only one man in it, and that man did not resemble descriptions of Peters. Peters had a considerable sum of money and a valuable diamond on his person.

LOUISVILLE, June 27. (Exclusive)—Joseph Kahn, 65 years of age, manager of the millinery store operated by his wife, Mrs. Mattie Kahn, at 614 West Market street, shot and killed himself in the bathroom of his home. Brooding over the prolonged illness of Mrs. Kahn was said by Clarence Kahn, a son, to be the reason for his father's act. Mr. and Mrs. Kahn had been in the millinery business here for twenty-five years.

The will of H. L. Earley, secretary and treasurer of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Marketing Association, who died the 12th inst., was probated in County Court. Mr. Earley left his entire estate, valued at $45,000, to his son, Albert Earley.

The Adler Manufacturing Company, Twenty-ninth and Chestnut streets, makers of pianos and phonograph cabinets, has acquired the plant of the Preston Manufacturing Company on the Preston-Street Road. When taken over, Mr. Adler said, the adjunct plant will give employment to approximately 200 skilled workmen.

Mrs. Matilda Lauber, 91 years of age, widow of Albert Lauber, for more than forty years in the jewelry business at 212 West Market street, is dead at her home. Besides her son, Albert, who continues to conduct the business founded by his father, Mrs. Lauber is survived by a daughter, seven grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

MOSCICKI LAUDS AMERICA

New Polish President First European Ruler to Concede Superiority of Democracy in United States

BY FLOYD GIBBONS

WARSAW, June 27. (Exclusive)—The first chief of a European nation to concede the superiority of American democratic government over the European democratic system as a safeguard against the dangers of dictatorship is the President of the Republic of Poland.

European democracy must eliminate parliamentary abuses by instituting its national executive with powers approaching, or equivalent to, those of the President of the United States, in the opinion of the man who holds the highest office in Poland.

President Moscicki expressed these sentiments to me today in Samark Palace in an interview, which is the first public statement he has made since his inauguration, on the 4th inst. The President received me in his private study overlooking the Sixteenth Century Square, opposite the residence of United States Minister Stetson, from the roof of which a large American flag floated in the breeze.

To me it was strange to recall when that early exile occurred, M. Moscicki, then a young chemist and member of a revolutionary society, knew too much about the chemical and mechanical construction of bombs to make the Russian police feel safe with him around. That young bomb maker of Lemberg is the chief of state of the country once ruled by the Russian Czar, the German Emperor and Austrian Emperor. They knew what bombs were, too.

"Mr. President," I asked, "what is your personal opinion of the success of parliamentary government in Europe? Is Europe going toward dictatorship or democracy? Will the proposed increased powers of the Polish President make Poland a dictatorship, or will Poland remain a democracy?"

"It is by parliamentary government," he replied, "we are to understand the participation of all the social classes in the tasks of the government, then I am convinced that this principle is one of the greatest achievements of modern democracy and never can be questioned."

"Yet experience seems to point to the necessity of reforming the numerous uses and abuses of parliamentary government, which in many countries of Europe has made impossible the normal functioning of the state machinery. It is, however, a question not of changing these principles, which must remain untouched, but of changing the practical application. There is, therefore, at present a general tendency to increase the powers of the executive compared to those of Parliament."

"America, better than any other nation, knows a firm executive has absolutely nothing to do with dictatorship. In America the executive has more power than any other executive in the world; yet America remains the foremost democracy in the world."

"There is nobody in Poland that seriously would think of introducing a dictatorship and abandoning the democratic principles of government."

Chinese War Lords, Once Enemies, Will Meet in Spectacular Setting

PEKING, June 27. (P)—The long-awaited meeting between the two powerful militarists who share power in North China, Marshal Chang Tso-lin of Manchuria and Wu Pei-fu of the central provinces, moved a stage nearer realization today with the arrival in the capital of Marshal Wu, accompanied by his staff.

Both these chieftains, once the bitterest of enemies but presently allies against the national armies, are now in Peking, the Manchurian war lord having arrived from his capital Saturday.

Marshal Wu was greeted at the station by several high-ranking members of the Manchurian camp, including the young son of its chief, Gen. Chang Hsueh-liang, and the Shan-tung leader, Gen. Chang Tsung-chang.

NEW COMPANY
IN POSO FIELD

Taft Men and Los Angeles Capitalists Involved
Lease Reported Taken by Bakersfield Pair

Many May Benefit by Drilling Activity

BAKERSFIELD, June 27. (Exclusive)—A group of prominent Taft men, said to be associated with several Los Angeles capitalists, have organized the Big Four Oil Company and soon will let contracts for the drilling of the first well on 320 acres in the Poso field, midway between the famous Shell No. 9 producer and the town of Famosa.

Robert K. Gilbert of Los Angeles, a newcomer, said to represent the Gilmore Oil Company, has leased 160 acres on Sec. 9, 27-28, from A. B. Campbell and Jesse B. Dorsey of Bakersfield for $80,000.

Every company and individual interested in the Poso Creek district is enthusiastic over oil showing found in Buchner Brothers No. 1 well, now cemented at a depth of 660 feet. The hole is nine miles from Woody.

Among landowners in the Poso district who will win fortunes if the early results of the oil showing are equalled by one or more drilling groups, are Mrs. Lillian Glide of Bakersfield, and R. L. Stockton of Bakersfield, both of whom have outright possession of several hundred acres. Other persons who will benefit greatly by added production in Poso are J. J. Mack, the Gerard brothers, A. H. and E. J. Villard, M. Moyer, Vetter brothers, El Laguer, S. Bertrand, O. Shapiro and B. B. Mills and the Wilshire Oil Company. Buchner Brothers have most of the Federal-owned land in the area.

Breaking a Record
An old gentleman, watch in hand, stopped a passing instructor at a bathing pool.

"Instructor," he said, "what is the longest time anybody ever stayed under water?"

"Why, about five minutes, I guess," said the instructor.

"Then," said the old gentleman, "there's a fat business man over there in the deep end of the pool who has broken all records. I've been timing him. He's been down over nine minutes now, and you can see for yourself that he shows no signs of coming up yet." [Exchange.]

FATHERLESS GRASSHOPPERS
Eggs of the small swamp grasshopper, known as the grotesque, will hatch and develop without fertilizing by the male, entomologists of Kansas Agricultural College discover. A number of females, producing 450 offspring of which ninety-eight females and one male grew large enough to be recorded, and these fatherless offspring bred true to color. Why just is Mother Nature so anxious to provide us with grasshoppers? If you like to solve mysteries, here's one. [Capper's Weekly.]

ORE FIND

New Copper Deposit of High Grade Assorted to Have Been Struck

CANANEA (Son.) June 27. (Exclusive)—Guarded report is made of the finding of an entirely new copper ore deposit, in virgin ground on the property of the Greene-Canaan Copper Company, where exploration by diamond drilling has been in progress for some time.

High-grade ore is said to have been struck at 1260 feet of depth, after several holes had given unsatisfactory results. The company has an immense acreage, embracing much of the northern end of the Cananea Mountains.

The first operations were at the Cobre Grande at Bonquillo, where the smaller later was placed, there being thereafter an extension westward to the Veta Grande, Capota, Chivatera, Elmita and Puertocito sections.

The Capota for years was one of the greatest copper producers of the Southwest, with direct-smelting sulphides that grew deeper with depth. Veta Grande was notable for its production of native copper in large chunks and sheets.

A new ore body has been cut and shipments are being made of two carloads a month of rich silver-lead ore. A fifty-ton concentrator is to be built at once.

The property formerly was operated by a company that included Alfred Paul of Douglas and Gen. John C. Greenway of Warren, but work was suspended only twenty feet from where the new owners found the new veins.

Such a Friendly Neighbor
An Iowa woman in pioneer days wanted to start an orchard on her farm. On a corner of Mr. B's farm adjoining was a plum tree which bore delicious fruit. The woman told her son to get a nail and they would walk over to Mr. B's tree and pick up some of the plums lying on the ground under it to plant in the new orchard. She didn't believe Mr. B. would object. Walking back with these windfalls, they met Mr. B. riding on top of a load of hay. The woman told him what she and her son had been doing. "Oh," said he, "well, you must hand me up de nail and I will eat de plums and throw you down de seeds." They did as ordered, and the young plum tree grew just de same. [Capper's Weekly.]

Awfullest Dinner Story
The man of the house invited as a guest an old friend with a tremendous nose who was extremely sensitive about it. So he cautioned the wife not even to glance at the guest's nose. However, the good lady had the nose on her mind as she poured the guest a cup of coffee, and in her pleasant company manner she asked, "Mr. —, do you take sugar in your nose?" It was an embarrassing moment for three. [Capper's Weekly.]

NO PLACE FOR THE NERVOUS
Visitors to England who enjoy the craze, would not miss the Tower of London. For an extra 50 cents admission visitors have the privilege of being trusted on the rack which Crammer, Latimer and Guy Fawkes were tortured. The bones of Lady Jane Grey are on display, also the French sword used in beheading Anne Boleyn, and the ax which ended Catherine Howard's life. [Capper's Weekly.]

Rio Janeiro, Brazil, has a new large radio-telegraph station.

OLD LANGUAGE REVIVED
Creditable and hopeful though it may be for a revival of Hebrew culture, the establishment of a Hebrew university in Jerusalem does not begin to compare in importance with the fact that little children are again talking, playing their games and calling each other names in that language of the prophets which had been dead for centuries. Zangwill said that the index of life is speech. This is true. A people that speaks is not dead. And in order that world Jewry might share in this renaissance, which Sophie Press Loeb called "the greatest experiment of the century," there must be somewhere in this world a place where the Jew will have at least cultural predominance. And that place is Palestine. [Pierre Van Paasem in Atlanta Constitution.]

Not Arrived
"Have the Browns managed to get into good society?"
"No; merely into the smart set." [Boston Transcript.]

Two deep wells went on the pump yesterday, increasing the number of producers from the deep sand and in the Los Cerritos extension to twenty-four. The new wells are the Wilshire Oil Company's No. 1 and the Norwood No. 1. The Wilshire well is on the east side of the American avenue, north of Thirty-sixth street. The Norwood well is on the west side of Elm avenue, just north of Thirty-sixth street. Both wells are said to be yielding nearly 300 barrels of oil per day.

Wells drilling for the deep sand now total 101. The E. L. Cramer No. 2, the Gallagher No. 1 and the W. M. C. No. 4 have just joined the ranks of deep drills.

On the west side of the field the Fitcher Oil Corporation has completed another fifty-barrel producer on the Crown permit on Sec. 12, 18-27, the sand being topped at 1665 feet. On Sec. 21, 18-28 Flynn-Welch & Yates are drilling in their Keyes No. 4.

M'KEON WELL
ON PRODUCTION

Pantegies No. 1 Initial Yield Runs to 329 Barrels

General Petroleum Plans for Deepening Operations

Decision Result of Blowout in Dodge No. 4

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent
LONG BEACH, June 27.—Another McKee well has been placed on production from the deep sand. It is McKee's Pantegies No. 1, at Linden avenue and Thirty-sixth street, in the Los Cerritos extension. The initial yield was 329 barrels, with a 15 per cent cut of emulsion and a gravity test of 10.8 deg. The well was cemented at 4775 feet and drilled to 4810 feet. This is the third deep-sand well completed by the McKee organization, discoverer of the deep sand and in the Signal Hill section.

As a result of a blowout in the Dodge No. 4 at St. Louis avenue and Willow street Thursday night, the General Petroleum Corporation has announced its intention to deepen two wells near the Dodge, in territory which was formerly considered doubtful. The Dodge No. 3 and Dodge No. 1, near Willow and Cherry streets, in the old section of the Signal Hill field have been selected for deepening. The company also plans to deepen the K. & H. No. 3 on Willow street, and the Jorgins No. 1, another old well in the Signal Hill section.

The blowout of the Dodge well threatened for a time to duplicate the performance of the Shell Company's old Andrews No. 3 gasser under the Fisher drilling crew muddled it down. The pressure blew the Kelly and its blocks almost to the crown block and oil overflowed the sump-hole and ran down the gutters of the street. The well recently obtained a water shut-off and is now being drilled from a depth of about 3600 feet. The well is located on a site which is said to have been abandoned by the Henderson Petroleum Corporation four years ago.

Two deep wells went on the pump yesterday, increasing the number of producers from the deep sand and in the Los Cerritos extension to twenty-four. The new wells are the Wilshire Oil Company's No. 1 and the Norwood No. 1. The Wilshire well is on the east side of the American avenue, north of Thirty-sixth street. Peck Brothers Reported as Leasing Two Properties

Local Capitalists Named in Hammond Group Deal

Twenty Companies Active in Quartz Mountain Area

TONOPAH (Nev.) June 27. (Exclusive)—The Peck Brothers and associates of Los Angeles have taken a long lease and purchase option on the Diamond and "Excelsior" mines near Bureka, according to reports from that camp. The properties are located on Prospect Mountain, and are credited with containing a large tonnage of silver, gold, lead, ore. Equipment for a mill is being assembled.

Reported to be backed by the United Eastern Company and strong capitalists in Los Angeles and the northwest, Alfred S. Longmiller has obtained a five-year lease on the Hammond gold group at Gold Creek, near Elko. More than $100,000 in probable ore is reported to be exposed, and arrangements are being made to develop the lower workings and install a twenty-ton mill.

Erection of fifteen hoists and numerous compressors is proceeding in the Quartz Mountain field, and deep mining is to be started by at least twenty strong companies, it is asserted. The George Wingfield syndicate has established operating headquarters at Fallon, and started aggressive development on seven properties.

The Cole-Ryan Syndicate of New York, has increased its holdings, and the New California Tonopah Company, controlled by Frank Stall, California and Nevada mine operator, has completed a deal for three excellent groups.

Manager L. D. Gordon of the San Rafael mine reports that the new vein on the 350-foot level shows six to seven feet of splendid ore, of which three to four feet averages better than $100 per ton in silver, lead and gold.

The Nevada Gold Development Company, controlled by the Cole-Ryan Syndicate, has arranged for comprehensive prospecting in promising placer deposits near Round Mountain.

The gravel covers several hundred acres and has been tested by a 270-foot shaft, and considerable lateral work. The drills are figured to demonstrate values and formation at greater depth. It is probable that the channel will be worked by steam shovels and sluices.

STARTS SHIPMENTS The Beatty Consolidated Company, controlled by W. H. Webb of Los Angeles and H. P. Hale of Culver City, Cal., has started shipments of silver-lead ore to the Mason Valley smelter at Wabuska. Supt. Hale states that an immense tonnage of shipping ore is exposed and that the material will be quarried from a hill of ore within thirty to sixty days the company expects to make shipments at the rate of 1000 tons monthly. The property is located three miles from Beatty, and a spur is to be extended to the mine from the Tonopah and Tidewater Railroad.

Production of the Comstock Mercury Mines Company, operating at Virginia City, reached $178,904, with two-thirds of the value in gold. The company is developing the Silver City branch of the Comstock lode and preparing to work the upper section of the Justice mine, besides pressing extensive work in its main Virginia City and Gold Hill groups. Ore production is averaging around $7,800 tons per month.

OLD SHOP WINDOWS GONE Paris shopkeepers will talk of "putting up the shutters" as closing time, but actually they pull them down. The quaint, many-paned show windows familiar in the old illustrations to the "songs" of Beranger and the Cruikshank and Phis drawings for Dickens' works, have disappeared to make way for great solid iron "curtains," which are hauled down with a lever. The old windows, charming, cob-webbed and gaily, remain in a few out-of-the-way parts of Paris.

The mild weather sometimes observed during winter occasionally wakes before their time animals which have been spending the winter buried in the ground or in trees. While these creatures are asleep, often in a deep slumber, respiration seems to be totally suspended.

A hedgehog was recently immersed in a pall of cold water, and though the ducking was continued for thirty minutes the animal was taken out unhurt. No slight was its breathing practically no water entered its lungs.

Marmots and bats have been placed in glass chambers filled with carbon dioxide. In their normal state they have expired almost immediately; but in their winter sleep they have survived after four hours in the gas chambers.

Extremes cold will sometimes kill six months' stumblers, but there have been notable exceptions in the case of animals with cold blood. Occasionally fish have been brought to life when taken from solid blocks of ice. Frogs have been known to recover after ice has formed in their blood. —[Exchange.]

THE COMPANY United Steel Works Corporation, which has contracted to acquire the principal fixed assets (except certain coal properties), the good will and businesses of four leading coal, iron and steel concerns in Germany, viz., Rheinische Union, Thyssen, Phoenix and Rheinisch, will be the largest industrial unit in Europe and one of the largest manufacturers of iron and steel in the world, ranking in productive capacity second only to United States Steel Corporation. Its coal properties will be among the largest in the world with respect to reserves and present productive capacity. United Steel Works Corporation has operated these properties since May 7, 1926, and is at present producing approximately 40% of the entire German steel production and employs about 164,000 persons.

These Series A bonds, limited to $30,000,000, will be the direct obligation of the corporation, secured, in the opinion of counsel, by mortgage on fixed assets valued by Mr. H. A. Brassert, American consulting engineer, at $537,571,800 (including real estate and coal reserves), subject to about $70,600,000 of underlying obligations, including approximately $29,400,000 obligations under the Dawes plan based on existing assessments. Against the properties presently to be mortgaged there may be issued (ranking equally with the Series A bonds) a total of $105,000,000 of bonds, including the $30,000,000 Series A bonds, the equivalent of about $30,000,000 of bonds proposed to be presently issued abroad payable in foreign currency and $41,180,000 of bonds reserved to refund underlying obligations. The valuation of $537,571,800 equals about 4 times the sum of all underlying obligations (including existing obligations under the Dawes plan), these $30,000,000 Series A bonds and all other bonds ranking equally therewith (except bonds reserved to refund underlying obligations) issuable against the properties presently to be mortgaged.

The pro forma opening balance sheet of United Steel Works Corporation, as of April 1, 1926, as certified by Messrs. Price, Waterhouse & Co., adjusted to give effect to the issue and sale of the $30,000,000 Series A bonds and application of proceeds shows current assets of $86,799,087, including over $22,000,000 of cash and current liabilities of $16,629,504—a current ratio of more than five to one.

As United Steel Works Corporation is not acquiring all the properties of each of the vendor companies and as the operation of the properties is being completely reorganized and unified, past earnings of the vendor companies while separately operated are not fairly indicative of the present earning power of the corporation. Mr. Brassert estimates that under the changed basis of operation net earnings of United Steel Works Corporation, after depreciation, depletion and all other charges except interest, payments under the Dawes plan and profits taxes, for the five years 1927 to 1931 inclusive, will average $28,311,358 per annum, or more than 3 times the sum of the annual interest charges on these $30,000,000 Series A bonds, on the bonds (about $30,000,000) proposed to be presently issued abroad, on existing underlying liens and estimated maximum annual payments under the Dawes plan. This estimate makes no allowance for benefits expected to accrue to the German iron and steel industry upon stabilization of French and Belgian currencies which Mr. Brassert believes will increase estimated earnings approximately 20%.

Before complaining, wait, and try
If you can't help yourself—

For mother or for Father, till
You really need them, then you will
Feel very proud you did need them!
Goops cry so much one doesn't heed them.

LANGUAGE OF UNITED STATES IS PURE LINCOLN

A popular writer suggests that if the King of England, as the old phrase has it, does not run in the United States, the pure idiom of Lincoln has authority. Yes, Lincoln's language does have authority, and so does the excellent eighteenth century English of the Declaration of Independence, which public school puppets memorize, and of the Federal Constitution which serious citizens ponder. And the effect of these will be lasting, because our people cannot very well get away from them, if they would, and have no mind to try.

A Canadian writer speaks, not of the English-speaking nations, but of the English-writing nations, which may be more accurate. One of our popular novelists not so long ago took a trip to Australia and undertook to render specimens of prevalent Antipodean slang. No doubt, the day's American slang is as difficult for a Londoner as the Australian slang seemed to us. Slang sticks around always, but never stays put. The slang of tomorrow is not the slang of today. But the English language is nowadays too much world language to be confined to one slang as French is to the Parisian. But all over the world, where English is the language of the writer, English words, that is intelligible in New York, Montreal, Melbourne, Cape Town, Auckland, Singapore, Shanghai.

And in this country of ours, whose speech until recent years has been nearer the pattern of the King James translation of the Bible than the speech of modern England, the English tongue is being saved from degradation, despite the once threatening modern tongue, by the public schools which insist on family familiarity with the Declaration of Independence and the Gettysburg Memorial Address. Better English, in fact, is the order of the day all over our land. The man in the street, "the middle brow," takes more pride in his speech than he did fifteen years ago. Our accent may be American, but our vocabulary and phrasing is Lincolnian, Jeffersonian, good eighteenth century stuff—(Minneapolis Journal).

War Department Queried on Claim From California

WASHINGTON, June 27. (Exclusive)—The War Department is in receipt of a query from relatives of the late Francisco De La Guerra asking for information thought to be on file in the War Department concerning activities of Lieut.-Col. John C. Fremont during his campaign in California during the Mexican war days.

Children of Francisco De La Guerra are making an effort to substantiate a claim against the government of the loss of horses said to have been taken by Fremont in command of the United States troops in California in 1846-47.

A further search of the records of so-called "California claims" for the period from 1846 to 1847, which were instituted by Col. Fremont on his invasion of California, show no record of a claim filed by the Francisco De La Guerra family.

His rat-crow searched each warehouse before pumping in the gas, but he was not in the third one a tramp had been asleep, and when the doors were anxiously opened after the fumigation, he was found dead.

There was no request. Over a rum article at the Los Angeles Herald, "I wonder how many men I murder, Martin!" When I was detective chief at the Los Angeles Police Department, I was always afterward we find two or three starwavs. They hide too good. Poor fellow—bury him.

WISE IS THE WOMAN

According to Miss Jeanne, Expert Diagnostician of the Helena Rubinstein Salon of Beauty Culture, New York, "who appreciates the necessity of having a perfect background for her cosmetics"—in other words, a sound, healthy skin. If the skin is dull, wrinkled or bleached, it is not going to "make up" nearly so well as if clear and smooth, which can be brought about by the use of Helena Rubinstein's preparations.

Miss Jeanne will give instructions in the proper use of powder and rouge, how they should be chosen with regard to the color of the hair, and eyes, the shape of the facial contour, the color and general condition of the skin; the proper application of cosmetics for the business woman, daytime and formal occasions.

"Therefore, scientific beauty preparations must be given first place. Then comes cosmetics, guaranteed as to purity of ingredients and in perfect harmony with individual coloring," which will all be explained by Miss Jeanne in her very interesting talks beginning today in our Toilet Goods Section, Main Floor.

TRAITORS OF RACE WAR Dr. Culbertson, in Sermon at KHJ, Urges Christian Spirit to Quell Industrial Strife

"Traitor to his country, to mankind and to God is every one who foments antagonism among races," declared Dr. Henry C. Culbertson, pastor of the Mesa Congregational Church, in his sermon preached yesterday from The Times broadcasting station. Discussing the spiritual conflict now being waged between good and evil forces throughout the world, Dr. Culbertson declared that the mightiest force for the bringing about of a happier industrial system is not any particular social or political theory but a spiritual principle which is in the soul of every follower of Jesus Christ. Preaching on "Armageddon," Dr. Culbertson spoke in part as follows:

"There are some of our ablest men devoting their earnest efforts to find a true solution for perplexing industrial conditions, to find ways to bring the workers into more responsible and active sharing in the concerns in which they are employed, to remedy unemployment and obtain a more fair and reasonable division of the profits of toil. The mightiest force for the bringing about of a happier industrial system is not some special particular theory, but a spiritual principle which is in the soul of every follower of Jesus Christ. We may not all agree upon any scheme for ameliorating industrial conditions, but if we Christians shall determine hereafter that in all our own dealings we will act toward our fellowmen as toward brothers beloved, little by little every evil that exists in our economic order will be eliminated and better systems will be evolved. No solution will ever be effective apart from this principle. Some may be financially wounded and some fall spiritually slain in this spiritual struggle, for all progress in the world is paid for with sacrifice, but every true brotherly act in every business transaction is a spiritual cannonball in the spiritual fight to make a better world. Good is stronger than evil, and good will be destined of God to be triumphant in all human relationships."

THIRD LINE OF ADVANCE
"A second line of advance in the great spiritual conflict is the duty of overcoming racial antagonism. It is not much to say that the chief danger of our entire civilized world today is in the adjustment of relations between the various races of our planet. In our own country we have seen recently race wars in the cities of East St. Louis, Washington and Chicago. In the Chicago race war of 1919, thirty-eight persons were killed, 587 wounded and 1000 were made homeless. 'Lynching' in America has shown such barbarity as staggers the imagination. Lifting our eyes with wider vision to the world, we see that modern wireless, radio, airplane and motion-pictures are obliterating national boundaries as completely as gunpowder smokes obliterated cities of old. Whether we wish it or not, the world is being drawn closer together, into one big neighborhood, and we must either learn the ways of love and good will or else we shall have a war of diabolical weapons which will turn our earth into a charnel house and all the contenders into devils. There is no weapon we can use which our enemies cannot use as well. There now exist more than 1000 times as powerful as any used in the World War."

"Nation-wide epidemics can be disseminated by airplane flying 200 miles per hour and with capacities for bombarding known in the World War. There is no chivalry in modern warfare, but only the pitting of nation against nation to murder men, women and children and obliterate whole populations. If we would avert the terrible danger of looking such a hellish struggle upon our earth we must reach deeper than the mere making of treaties; we must build trust, good will and friendship among the various races of mankind. We must launch at once a spiritual campaign based upon the conviction that love is mightier than hate, that love can prevail, and that hate can be exterminated. In the great Armageddon of God everyone who works for a better understanding among races, in our own land and in our foreign relations, is a friend and helper of the universal peace. Every one who foments antagonism is a traitor to his country, to mankind and to God."

"The third line of progress is in religion. In the advance of religious ideas and ideals we claim the third throne in our slogan and proclaim fearlessly that truth is more powerful than falsehood. Truth, whatever it may be, will ultimately prevail, and the truth shall make us free. Open-mindedness, and the right of every individual to do his own thinking, are the principles of living. The greatest progress of religion among men will not be by means of various ceremonial and ritualistic observances, but by the living of the Word of God incarnate. Our churches are temporary things. They are the houses which protect the tender plants until those plants are strong enough to brave the great outdoors. So our present institution of the church is a place to develop Christian ideals and character until this ideal and purpose of the church is so widespread that the world itself shall become a vast spiritual temple of prayer, praise and Christlike living."

SAYS BIBLE NEVER IS CONTRADICTORY
Although apparently contradictory statements appear in the Bible, the spirit of that great book never contradicts itself, according to the opinion expressed in a sermon yesterday by Rev. William C. Iselt at Amanda Chapel. Mr. Iselt spoke in part as follows:

"For a good many centuries the Bible has been the subject of scientific investigation, and according to the opinion of the most searching investigation the most profitable study has been in the field of literature and language. It was written in Hebrew, Chaldean and Greek, but it has been judged by an English standard. Ability to read a foreign language and to know the meaning of the words in the Bible is a great help in the thought of the writer. Emphasis, sarcasm, question or declaration, all may change the meaning of the words in a single sentence. Keeping this in mind, let us look at some contradictory statements which have been made. Remember that in the Greek, in which the New Testament was written, two negatives do not make a positive, as in English. Paul says, 'When I am weak, then I am strong.' He bases this upon God's statement to him, 'My strength is perfected in weakness.' The contradiction emphasizes the fact that when we are weak, we are strong. It is the strength of our strength. Reaching its extreme in the abstraction of the Indian fakir and in the wonderful peace of Jesus Christ, on the other hand, it embodies a great truth. It is the Greek way of saying it, the meaning is that one's human weakness is no barrier to success provided the mind is in harmony with God, and so his strength can flow through one. Or, in other words, human obstruction and self-will hinders the divine strength from working through the human mind and body. Passivity in the hands of God is strength."

"Take another contradiction of Paul: 'It is no longer I that live, Christ liveth in me.' You will find this desire in all religiously inclined people everywhere. Possession by the Spirit of God. It was certainly true that Paul was living, yet he says he was not. His meaning was clear that he had so brought his mind and body under the control of God that God lived in him. Some one has put it differently: 'We are what we think we are.' I read a book on man-

IMPROVEMENT ACT INVOKED

Action to Open and Widen Washington Place Follows Decision on Mattoon Law

Action to start condemnation proceedings for the acquisition and improvement of Washington Place, west of Culver City, is scheduled to be taken by the Board of Supervisors today, as a result of the decision of the Supreme Court establishing the constitutionality of the Mattoon Act.

The Supervisors are to instruct the County Counsel formally to start condemnation proceedings under the new act, also known as the Acquisition and Improvement Act of 1925.

STREET TO BE OPENED

Washington Place will be opened and widened to a width of 100 feet from Zanja street to Tilden street, and will form a cut-off for Washington Boulevard just west of Overland avenue. Plans have been drawn, but action has been delayed for several months pending the settlement of the Mattoon Act.

According to Alfred Jones, chief deputy of the County Surveyor's office, surveys have been completed for the acquisition and improvement of a large number of big street improvements in the county. Jones said that the Board of Supervisors will soon order these improvements.

Among these is the widening and opening of Manchester avenue, from Alameda street to the Orange county line. This road, to be 100 feet wide, will pass through Southgate, Downey, Norwalk and Gardena.

Another proceeding which will soon be started under the Mattoon Act is the Sepulveda Parkway, from Ventura Boulevard to the Los Verdes estates, a distance of eight miles.

"The same proceeding," he said, "can operate in the city and county at the same time. In the case of Palm avenue, which the Supreme Court approved, the proceedings called for the acquisition, paving, curbs, sewers and change of grade."

ENDS OWN LIFE Over Worry Due to Ill Health

Dependent because of ill health, Robert Frazer, aged 58 years, employed in a restaurant at Santa Fe Springs, shot and killed himself yesterday, according to a report at the Sheriff's office. His body was found lying on a bed in his home in Santa Fe Springs, where he had been for some time. The report stated that Frazer used a revolver. He left no note, but friends of the dead man told deputy sheriffs that Frazer had long complained of his failing health. His only living relative, the report stated, is a brother, Joe A. Frazer of Dover, Del. The body was taken to the county mortuary.

Child Drowns in Reservoir Near Gardena

Falling into deep water in a large reservoir at the Johnson's ranch near Gardena yesterday, Ritchie Umi, aged 8 years, of Gardena, was drowned, according to a coroner's office report. The body of the boy was taken to the Closson undertaking establishment in Gardena.

MASONRY LAUDED BY DR. BRUCE BROWN

"Masonry in the New Age" was the subject of a sermon preached yesterday at the South Park Christian Church by Dr. Bruce Brown, in honor of visiting Masons. Dr. Brown said in part:

"Out of the dim distance of the past Masonry comes to us with a long and honorable history. Its achievements are linked with the advancement of all free nations. There is no stain upon its escutcheon and no apologies are ever made for its record. All just governments have found in it a true and steadfast supporter, and its only enemies are the tyrant and the despot. Wherever Masonry is persecuted or outlawed, enemies of freedom are in control. As denizens of darkness dread the light, the tyrant whose rule depends on ignorance and superstition instinctively recognizes this great universal craft as the defender of the rights of man. A music magazine put it another way: 'Let the theme of the music possible in the world be the philosophy in the world put it this way: "Abstract yourself from your surroundings, and concentrate your whole attention on your reading, losing yourself in the mind of the author, if you would cultivate a retentive memory." One more, and from the Old Testament and the wise Solomon: "For men to seek their own glory is not glory." Glory that is self-obtained is not glory. Praise obtained under false pretenses, or the praise of oneself brings a glory that results in shame. All day long I have to listen to people telling me how great they are. We all weary of people talking about themselves. Maybe it is because we want to talk about ourselves, but we get tired just the same. One must be great before one can write a great autobiography. Let another praise them, and not think one's own mouth."

CALLS COVETOUSNESS ONE OF WORST SINS

Rev. Stanley H. Bailey preached yesterday at the Calvary Presbyterian Church on "The Warrior's Armor." He said in part:

"The close affinity between this Pauline Epistle of Ephesians and that Old Testament book of Joshua is again prominent in this closing study. As in Joshua God's ancient army fought the Canaanites under his direction and with his protection, so the New Testament warrior must take and put on the whole armor of God, that we may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil. The fifth chapter of this rich prison letter suggests that the first requisite for the Christian warrior, in a life that is above reproach in the eyes of his fellow-men; all uncleanness is to be avoided, because 'no unclean person hath any inheritance in the kingdom of God.' Again we find amid the list of the greatest sins the sin of covetousness, which God always condemns with sure punishment. It is the most insidious sin of all."

BALKIES
 They used to call some of the old-fashioned buggies balkies. But they never got half as sulky as some of these flivvers do.

THE WOMAN DID IT
 Even the fussiest self-made man will admit under examination that he got his early start in life by being pushed in a perambulator by a woman. The ladies are the backbone of all that is good.

IMPROVING PIES
 A patented pie crimper does the work grandmother used to do with her thumb or finger. Most people, however, know how to put a crimp in a regular pie without the aid of a mechanical crimper.

LABOR-SAVING
 A new device for hanging a scythe has been invented. It is said to save a lot of labor. Daniel Webster's way was the best labor-saver of all. He hung his scythe on a fence.

SOME BABY
 The discovery of the largest human skull in the world, in South Africa, is said to strengthen the theory that the Dark Continent was the cradle of the human race. When alive this baby must have made the cradle creak.

THE LIFE BEAUTIFUL
 There is nothing more fragrant or more beautiful than an unselfish life. The man who measures his own happiness by the amount of happiness he is able to confer upon others is worth more to the world than a whole battery of politicians who masquerade as statesmen.

A CLEAN BILL
 At a recent convention of homeopathic physicians it was agreed that the dress of the modern flapper is perfect and her morals high. It seems that her morals are even higher than her dress. A homeopathic dose of the flapper would be all right to take at any time.

PROPER NAME
 The people who start endless-chain letters, commanding you to sit down at once and send six copies, including all the signatures, to friends, who are in turn commanded to do the same, may know what they are doing. But if they do, why don't they name the damned things endless pain letters?

MAKING ENGLAND DRY
 A dry member of the British Parliament who has been visiting in this country says he has no hopes of the Britons adopting our form of prohibition. The English people are slaves of tradition and our legal restriction would be too radical for them to accept. He has hopes, however, of bringing the Englishmen down to wine and beer.

VICTIMS OF SPEEDERS
 A naturalist noted on a trip of some 300 miles over motor roads in Illinois the speeding machines had killed 230 animals and birds of various kinds. More than half of the death roll was of feathered things and it seems that, in spite of their wings and their own speed, hundreds of birds are struck and killed by cars every day. If they stop in the road to pick up dropped grains from farm wagons they are very apt to be bowled over. The death roll of the auto ranges from caterpillars to statesmen.

BOY BANDITS
 Down in Texas a judge sentenced a trio of youthful auto bandits to go to bed every night at 9 o'clock until they were 21, but, inasmuch as they are not in a jail where this is the regular program, the sentence seems silly. In their own homes the boys will continue to do pretty much as they please. To have them under cover at 9 every night cannot be assumed. When habits of banditry have been formed real restraint can only be assured by iron bars.

THE GREAT WAY
 Now they are going to create a paved highway from Halifax, N. S., to Vancouver, in British Columbia. This would mean an almost straight stretch of more than 3000 miles of good road directly from east to west. It would prove mighty popular in the summer season and there is one man in Detroit who could provide it with a lot of business. The financing of this will be a stupendous problem, yet there is no doubt that the road could be made to pay for itself twice over when all the benefits are computed.

THE BEAUTY SHOW
 Several conventions and conferences of church folk have taken the pains to denounce what are called beauty shows and bathing-girl revues. The religious people insist that beauty contests are demoralizing. Various religious and moral gatherings have registered their protest against publicity in beauty and the showing of semivulgar damsels in rivalry for fame. The churches are trying to prove that it is more important that a girl have a beautiful leg than a beautiful leg, but many girls prefer to take chances on their legs.

TACNA-ARICA
 Through the abandonment of the Tacna-Arica plebiscite the territory in question becomes a cancer in the breast of South America. Chile continues to hold the territory through military force, as it has held it for more than forty years; but the tactics it used to retain possession will remain to plague the peoples of Chile, Bolivia and Peru.

Chile, in the opinion of the American arbiters, has scrapped its treaty with Peru and violated the pledges made when President Coolidge agreed to continue the arbitration initiated by former Secretary Hughes during the Harding administration. The only alternative was for this country to use force—to draw an arbitrary boundary line and compel all the three peoples involved to observe it—or to withdraw. For the present it has withdrawn; but it would be well for Chile to remember that a postponement is not a settlement.

"Chile has resumed military occupation of the disputed territory." That official announcement is self-explanatory. The following extract from the resolution presented by Gen. Lasater, representing President Coolidge, and adopted by the votes of the American and Peruvian delegates, is equally self-explanatory:

That conditions utterly incompatible with the exercise by Peruvians of the legitimate plebiscitary activities essential to a free and fair expression of the will of the qualified electorate exist in the plebiscitary territory; that the Peruvian electorate has been physically reduced below its proper figure by such measures as forcible deportations, departures induced by violence or threats, unexplained disappearances, discriminatory military conscription and even assassination; that Peruvians who have been driven or frightened out of plebiscitary territory have not been given by the Chilean authorities due opportunity of facilities to return and register to vote; that there has been systematic, widespread, effective terrorization of Peruvians, brought about through violence to persons and property and through threats of oppression and persecution; that Peruvians have been coerced into promising to vote for Chile, into promising to remain neutral in the plebiscite, into registering fraudulently; that the Peruvians have been denied due and equal protection of the laws applicable to the plebiscitary territory; that Peruvians have been subjected generally to unlawful restrictions, molestation, discriminations and other forms of interference with plebiscitary rights; that the Peruvian official plebiscitary personnel has been impeded, even subjected to assault, in an effort to discharge the necessary appropriate plebiscitary duties; that there have been general, deliberate misrepresentation and suppression of real facts by the local Chilean authorities and by the local Chilean press; that the conditions above outlined have been brought about, not only with the knowledge and implied approval of the Chilean authorities, but in many cases with their connivance.

It is an axiom of court practice that a party to a suit who knowingly produces perjured testimony does so because he can not win his case by fair methods—it is an assumption of guilt. This is the position Chile now occupies in the eyes of the world. And it is possible that, through an excess of near-patriotism, the Chileans prejudiced their own case. They may have been too anxious to "make assurance doubly sure." But as far as the official records go, Chile repudiated its signature to the treaty with Peru pledging a fair plebiscite.

Tacna-Arica thus becomes another Alsace-Lorraine, and the Chileans become the Germans of South America. For the present they may succeed. But they should remember that what is obtained through force in defiance of right can only be maintained by a force strong enough and vigilant enough to deny right.

FILMS AND FOREIGNERS
 Something more than humor is evoked by the effort of foreign producers, often backed by their governments, to dent America's hold on the motion-picture markets of the world. The matter has much more serious implications, though it has sometimes been carried to absurd lengths overseas. In the larger view the present flurry revolves not so much about American films as about world markets. Europe has learned somewhat late that as a wedge for opening trade channels the motion picture stands almost alone. It is this about the dominance of the American-made films throughout the world which is chiefly troubling the Old World.

At the outset England and the continent virtually abandoned the motion-picture field to the broader-visioned entertainment men in this country. Overseas the screen met with too much sophistication. It was regarded as a child's toy, akin to the magic lantern. But the plaything became a world force. And now that realization of this fact has sunk home a great deal of serious attention is being given the screen, not only by those directly interested in it overseas, but by their governments as well.

England, France and Germany are reported as fully backing their motion-picture producers in the latter's efforts to get a thumb into the world's picture pie. These nations have awakened to the possibilities of the screen medium in developing and holding world markets. They have seen the United States become a virtual dictator in many lands in the matter of style, dress and the daily amenities of life. Australia, for example, has often been termed an American colony. She has merited the title largely through the influence of American films. The motion picture, in other words, has served a twofold purpose. It is entertainment and also it is perhaps the best salesman that the United States has in foreign lands.

Film executives returning from England and Europe report that a concerted move to "break down America's film supremacy" is under way. But, likewise, they report the campaign is making slight headway. The film output of the Old World is still negligible and gives indications of remaining so for decades to come, if only because of the fact that the American films have won their public and are holding it.

But the present flurry may prove of considerable benefit to the motion-picture industry here. Unquestioned and uncontested dominance often leads to carelessness and abuse in any field of endeavor. There have been instances, for example, where our films have sometimes given Europeans more or less just cause for complaint. Film representatives returning to this country say that greater attention must be paid to such details in the production of motion pictures. In such cases a more sympathetic and judicious attitude is indicated.

ETHER DRIFT
 "The sun and our solar system are moving through space with a speed of over 130 miles a second toward a point in the direction of the constellation of Draco, which partly encircles the North Pole."

This is one of the inferences drawn from experiments by Prof. Dayton C. Miller of the Case School of Applied Sciences in Cleveland, O. The findings were made on Mount Wilson.

It seems that the earth is traveling but eighteen or nineteen miles a second in its orbit, or only about one-seventh as fast as the sun itself is being whisked through the universe.

Just why we are headed for Draco is a mystery—however, we are on the way. Amundsen is not the only person of importance flying from "Rome to Rome."

In order to make his 100,000 readings the professor had to walk in a small circle in the dark a total distance of 100 miles.

However, he pulled the ether over to the side of the road as it was drifting past at a shameful velocity, and so it was worth it. The delicate instrument used is called the "interferometer." This is but a highbrow name for a speed trap.

His findings agree with the astronomer who have noted our change of location with reference to the fixed stars from time to time. It was long ago announced that the sun was hurrying off to the north with his flock of planets.

It appears that this whole matter is somewhat tangled up with the Einstein theory. The mere mention of this helps to clarify the matter mightily for many people.

If some of our wise men would invent a delicate instrument to detect what Mus-solini or Europe expects to do next, or where there may be oil in the earth, quite a large throng of financiers (and some who are not) would be indebted.

For the present the interferometer is a drug on the market. No large investment in the securities of the interferometer works is strongly recommended.

No orator can ever snort in our faces again, "Whither are we drifting?" However, we are personally minded to let it drift until after summer vacation. That they had to come to California to find out where they are going is significant.

SOB-SISTER STUFF
 Alexander Hodges, reared in a supposedly moral environment, educated at the University of California and Kansas University and honored as an athletic hero at both institutions, found himself in need of more money in New York. He took an imitation pistol, held up and robbed a restaurant. He was arrested and confessed. At the best of relatives and friends he was examined for his sanity and found sane. He was tried for his crime, pleaded guilty and has just been let off without punishment by a New York judge.

The excuse the judge gives for leniency is that the memory of the crime will be a greater punishment for the man than would imprisonment. Psychologists are called upon to explain the emotional complexes which led to the so-called temporary moral breakdown during which the robbery was committed.

"Merely physical punishment," says the judge, "does not mean so much in the long run. It is the constant pegging of the conscience that is the real punishment."

As to Hodges himself that may be true. But society is not concerned with Hodges as an individual. Society is concerned with the hundreds and thousands of other youths to whom the pangs of conscience Hodges may suffer mean nothing whatever. All they see in the Hodges case is that just one more criminal goes unpunished and one more crime unrequited by the law. The chances of their escaping after a dip into lawlessness are thus made greater in the eyes of all who may be tempted to err by the need of money or desire for a new thrill.

When the whole country is crying out for action to stop the increase in crime it seems a pity that so many of our criminal courts are conducted by judges with such twisted notions of the theory of criminal punishment as this particular case illustrates.

The salvation of society from the growth of predatory crime and from multiplication of criminals should be the one and only purpose of the penal system. It is true, but none the less true, to say that the only way this can be achieved is to make punishment of crime swift and sure. It cannot be accomplished when justice, as in the Hodges case, permits itself to be swayed by perverted sub-sister emotions.

THE COMING RACE
 Eighty Dartmouth College students were recently asked the number of children each desired or anticipated.

One said, none; another, four or five; another, five or six; and yet another, ten. But three said, five; and six admitted four. Fifteen were willing to accept three; and thirty-eight gingerly stood for two.

Sixty-two out of eighty expressed a specific preference for a family of not more than two or three. Thus Stuart A. Rice and Malcolm M. Wiley informed the publisher through the Journal of Heredity of Washington.

These scientists do not feel that the attitude of college-bred men insures the reproduction and continuance of the group of intellectuals.

It may be that Nature herself discourages these refined efflorescences in matters of birth rate, lest she have an entail of amemics on her hands.

Shakespeare left no progeny to carry on his name and fame. Napoleon left a weakling for a son. Occasionally there is a "younger" Pitt and a "second" Becher; but greatness does not often sustain itself through two generations.

In the family of the Wesleys there were nineteen children. All were common, barnyard fowls—save two eagles.

Brain seems to have to lie fallow for ages to be sturdy enough to flower once or twice in a millennium. Nature has a way of averaging up her children. The law of compensation operates with a rhythmic regularity.

The intellectuals present one weighty brief. They offer larger opportunities to the offspring they do have. They may not take as many chances; but they make use of the ones they have to better advantage.

More than one genius also has been tethered by too many home responsibilities. And then it is difficult for humans to go both to seed and success.

ANTIQUITY PATTERNS
 Designers are going to the museums and archaeological collections for patterns for wall paper, china decoration and neckties. Some of the patterns claimed must be 4000 or 5000 years old and a few are beyond the ken of history. In the world of fashion and decoration the very latest is sometimes the very oldest. There is nothing new under the sun.

PLENTY OF ROOM
 Parking space for 50,000 automobiles has been provided at the Philadelphia Exposition and the next thing is to find enough visitors to occupy it.

Even yet there are villages so pure in heart that parents worry about the kids playing marbles for keeps.

Liquor was worse than gold, but it waited until after work hours to take up a man's time.

Another bad feature of the divorce evil is that you can't keep a cook now, even by marrying her.

One belief every American has in common with every other is that he is a typical American.

It is estimated that about one person in five tips the porter and the other four keep him busy.

Most of our mistakes are self-made.

Your habits tell what you are far more accurately than all the gossips.

Some of us feel that we would be all right if the rest of us weren't all wrong.

Some of us feel that we would be all right if the rest of us weren't all wrong.

Some of us feel that we would be all right if the rest of us weren't all wrong.

THE BLOOD OF THE NATION

BY DAVID STARR JORDAN

PART I.

The last fifty years have been the period of greatest activity in the study of biology. Among other things, it has seen the rise of the knowledge of the processes of heredity and their application to the formation and improvement of races of men and animals.

From our scientific knowledge in this respect men have developed the fine art of selective breeding. With men as with animals, "like begets like." In every vicissitude of race of men or breed of animals it is always those who are left that determine what the future will be. All progress in any direction in the development of animals is conditioned on selective breeding. There is no decline in any group except that caused by breeding from the second best instead of the best.

The rise and fall of races of men in history are in a degree conditioned on the same elements that determine the rise and fall of a breed of cattle or of a strain of horses. As improvement in blood is dependent upon normal selection or the choice of the best for parenthood, so racial decline is conditioned on reversal of selection, the choice of the worst for survival and propagation.

"Always and ever," says Novicow, "war brings about the reversal of selection." Those traits of character—physical strength, agility, courage, dash, patriotism—desired in the soldier are lost to the race that decrees the destruction of those who possess them. The belief that war in one generation sharpens the edge of warriorhood in the next generation is a delusion and has no biological foundation. It is the man who is left that determines always the future. To the biologist an ancestor is not primarily a forbear, but a carrier of inheritable potentialities. For men and women transmit to posterity not their actually developed traits, but rather their inborn tendencies, a complex of potentialities, "the raw material out of which character is forged." Heredity carries potentially, not the completed results of education and environment.

It is related that Quisno once asked the question of James Russell Lowell: "How long will the republic endure?" "So long as the ideas of its founders remain dominant," was the answer. But again we have this question: How long will the ideas of its founders remain dominant? Just so long as the blood of the founders remains dominant in the blood of its people. Not necessarily the blood of the Puritans and the Virginians alone, the original creators of the land of free States. We must not read our history so narrowly as that.

It is the blood of free-born men, be they Greek, Roman, Frank, Saxon, Norse, Dane, Celt, Scot, Goth or Samurra. It is a free stock which creates a free nation. There are free stocks in every race and in every nation, just as each race or nation produces bad stock. Our republics are the children of the movement of history, the progress of science and industry leaves for the future not the worst but the best of each generation. The republic of Rome lasted so long as it rested on the shoulders of Romans; the republic of America will last so long as its people, in blood and spirit, remain what we have learned to call Americans.

The word "blood" in this sense is figurative only, an expression framed to cover the qualities of heredity. Such traits, as the phrase goes, "run in the blood." In the earlier philosophy it was held that blood was the actual physical vehicle of heredity, that the traits bequeathed from sire to son as the characteristics of families or races ran literally in the literal blood. We know now that this is not the case. We know that the blood in the actual veins plays no part in heredity; that the transmission of blood means no more than the transportation of food and that the physical basis of the phenomena of inheritance is to be found in the structure of the germ cell and its contained germ plasma.

But the old word well serves our purposes. The blood which is thicker than water is the symbol of race unity. And race unity is something very different from national unity. A race is a natural group; a nation an artificial one. Race is innate; nationality is acquired.

A WINDOW AND A TREE
 By my window a magician, breathing whispers of enchantment, stands and waves a wand above me till the flowing of my soul, like the tide's deep rhythmic rise in successive swells that widen all my circumscribed horizon till the finite fades away; And the fountains of my being in low "abandonment" recesses are unsealed and, as the seas sweep, sweep the waters of my soul Till they reach the shores of heaven and, with abbe tide bear a pearl.

Back into the heart's safe keeping, where no thieves break through nor steal.

By my window stands confessor with his hands outstretched to bless me And on bended knee I listen to his low "abandonment" recesses. Ne'er was mass more sacramental, ne'er confessional more solemn. And the benediction given ne'er shall I lose. My heart's safe keeping, where no thieves break through nor steal.

Just a tree beside my window, just a symbol sent from heaven. But with Protean power it ever changes meaning, changes form. And it speaks with tongue of angels, for it prophesies the rising Of the day-star, which shall shine out from divinity in man.

But on both days the storm held off and the sun came out just in time to save the situation and also the reputation of the fete, which is the reputation of the Swiss in Switzerland that has never been put off on account of the weather.

The principal attraction this year was the open-air dancing of the ballet of the Royal Theatre de la Monnaie in Brussels, accompanied by the world-renowned organization dressed in a dashing khaki uniform. HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Cleaner Paints
A teaspoonful of kerosene to a gallon of warm water is a splendid solution to use when washing white paint.

Had You Thought of This?
If you are at a loss for table space in the kitchen when you are entertaining, open your ironing board and place it against the wall out of the way. It will hold the dishes for the courses until they are served and take care of many soiled dishes afterward.

The Refrigerator in Summer
This is the season when the refrigerator demands attention. Keep the inside and drainage clean with a weekly bath of hot water and soap and there will be no trouble. Don't try to keep leftovers so long in the refrigerator as to spoil them. As possible, so the refrigerator is not full of old bits that may not keep.

Safes
Now is the season when we usually have fresh flowers in our homes and unless we are careful we are apt to harm some of our furniture. Place a piece of waxed paper under the centerpiece upon which your vase of flowers is placed. Otherwise the dampness will cause the finish to stick to the woodwork of the table and ruin the finish.

OPTOMETRISTS' LECTURE
Dr. Clarence D. Baiter will attend the post-graduate lecture to be held by the optometrists at Berkeley place on Tuesday evening, July 3, at 8 o'clock. The post-graduate courses are being conducted by the American Association of Optometrists, an organization devoting its talents to the conservation of eyesight.

The Woman and Her Job

BY VALERIE WATROUS

(Letters concerning the problems of women will be answered in this column if addressed to Mrs. Watrous at The Times.)

IN HER STEPS

First Installment

Dear Mrs. Watrous: Will you let me "take the floor" in your column? I have had some experiences that go to show that the employee hired for some specific purpose may find her main duties lie in other directions.

In a panic of haste I snatched off my gloves when called in to assist in the business to be transacted. After seeing the visitor into the hall, my employer returned: "Take those things off," he bellowed, pointing to my apron and towel cap. "Never let me see you with them on again." I protested feebly, when he roared: "Take them off!" Then went to rejoin his friend, the visiting judge.

I was terribly humiliated, but a couple of hours after a colored boy thrust his head in the door: "Howdy, missy, de boss he said Ah's to come in and sweep my room."

But where was my increase in salary? Still, I had faith, and devilishly sharpened pencils and dusted desks!

The old-fashioned fortune teller, star gazers and crystal gazers have had their noses put a bit out of joint by the more modern "psychic analysts."

And where the fortune tellers only culled their half-dollars and dollars, and even the most stylish ones never ventured above $5, the psychic analysts begin with $10 and run as high as $20 when they are clever.

Our city simply bristles with professional psychologists. It must be one of the most thriving trades. And the thing has a vogue that even large firms and the Y.M.C.A. employ what they call "occupational psychologists" who undertake to psyche the subjects and discover what occupation they are best suited for to earn their livings.

Lecturers on human psychology draw fat fees for discouraging upon human characteristics, frailties, inhibitions, yearnings and the influence of mind over matter.

GOOD LISTENERS
The psychologist has a great advantage over the mere fortune teller, because he doesn't have to do much brilliant guessing. He starts right out by asking scores of direct questions. The patient is given every encouragement to talk about himself to his heart's content, and have a wonderful time confessing. He can tell all about his hard luck and his aches and pains and how he was suppressed in his childhood. Married people never can tell all their marital troubles and how they are miserable. Lovers can unburden all their heartaches. And the psychologist listens, patiently, interestedly, to all one's hopes, fears, anxieties and ambitions.

And, of course, the psychologist's job is to find a gleam of hope. The client usually leaves the presence feeling decidedly better. Because, of course, the clever psychologist always finds some worthy and even brilliant trait in one's character, which, if his advice is followed, is going to carry one on and up and materialize one's fondest hopes. If one's fondest hopes don't materialize, it is because one has not obeyed the advice properly, or because the parties one has to deal with and whose interests are in conflict with one's own, don't respond to treatment—but one must not blame one's psychologist for that.

HE RENEWS HOPE
But in any case, the psychologist generally has a comforting explanation for all our faults, and any amount of kind flattery for any talents that may be ours. And he certainly makes us feel joyously interesting. Where our friends are bored to death with our outpourings and are frequently most unsympathetic, the professional, for a reasonable fee, lets us get it all off our chest. Really his sympathy alone is well worth the price. Of course, he can't really turn a dumb and dismal failure into a shining and prosperous success—but he'll give $5 worth of interested listening and sympathetic attention to our woes, and his merciful flattery, and his own, don't respond to treatment—but one must not blame one's psychologist for that.

ITALIAN CUTLETS
Take three pounds of the neck of lamb cut, the meat into nicely shaped cutlets, season them and cut off some of the fat, dip them in melted butter, then in the beaten yolk of an egg. Mix well together four tablespoonfuls of bread crumbs, one tablespoonful of savory herbs, one tablespoonful of minced parsley, one teaspoonful of minced shallot, one teaspoonful of finely chopped lemon peel, salt and pepper, and roll the cutlets in the ingredients. Fry them a delicate brown in hot fat. Remove from the pan, then dredge into the grease they have been fried in a little flour, and when it begins to brown pour in a cupful of hot stock; add a tablespoonful of chutney, two teaspoonfuls of tarragon vinegar, a vinegary of cider, then allow it to boil up, stirring it smooth. If the gravy should not be thick enough add a little bit more flour; then pour around the cutlets. Garnish with fried red peppers and cream.

ENDIVE AND ROQUEFORT CHEESE SALAD
In making the salad, after washing the endive, loosen the center leaves and stuff with Roquefort cheese which has been mashed soft, and a little French dressing. Serve sliced down on dark-green lettuce leaves with French dressing. One pound of endive will serve four people.

CHEERY PUFFS
Mix well two cups of flour with one and a half teaspoonfuls of baking powder and a generous pinch of salt; make into a soft batter with milk. Butter well as many little cups as are needed and in the bottom of each place a teaspoonful of pitted cherries that have been dusted with sugar, then a tablespoonful of the batter, another of the cherries, and another of the batter. Set the cups in a steamer and steam twenty minutes. Turn out and serve with a hot vanilla pudding sauce.

VEAL AND HAM PIE
Cut two pounds of veal cutlets into small pieces and put a layer in the bottom of the dish. Sprinkle over them a mixture of pepper, salt, a dash of nutmeg, two tablespoonfuls of savory herbs and a strip of lemon peel finely chopped, and the yolks of two hard-boiled eggs. Cut two pounds of boiled ham very fine and add in alternate layers until the dish is full. The top layer to be of ham. Add one cupful of water and the top crust and bake in a moderate oven from one to one and a half hours.

SPINACH SOUFFLE
Take four pounds of spinach, trim and wash it thoroughly, then boil in plenty of water, adding a pinch of soda and a pinch of salt. When done remove the spinach from the water into a steamer with a skimmer and leave any extra sand at the bottom of the kettle. When drained, chop the spinach very fine and add to it four well-beaten eggs, a saltspoonful of pepper, half a teaspoonful of salt, a dessert spoonful of melted butter, and a skimmer of cream. Mix well, put in well-buttered souffle dishes, or large ramekins, and bake ten minutes.

MAINTENANCE
OF CITY GROWSIncrease in Departmental
Costs for 1925Los Angeles Expenditures
Show Large GainEducational Expenses Rise
Considerably

A substantial increase in the cost of maintenance and operation of the general departments of the city of Los Angeles for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1926, over the fiscal year of 1925 is noted in financial statistics of the local city government released for publication by the Department of Commerce and Public Works and received here yesterday.

General department expenditures for 1925 amounted to $47,246,771, as compared with $59,926,110 for 1924 and $13,932,039 in 1918, it was stated.

The increase noted for 1925 in payments for maintenance and operation of general departments was due, principally, to increased expenses for education and for police and fire departments, the Department of Commerce Bulletin reads.

EXPENDITURES HIGH
Payments for the operation of public service enterprises, including waterworks, electric light, the power system, docks, wharves, landings and cemeteries, amounted to $11,332,909; interest on debt, $6,443,108; and outlays for permanent improvements, including those for public service enterprises, $6,511,847. The total payments for the operation of general departments and public service enterprises, interest and outlays, including county and schools, were $129,854,839.

The total payments included for the county amounted to $20,780,212, and for schools $27,048,831. The total included all payments for the year, whether made from current revenues or from the proceeds of bond issues.

Revenue receipts for the city during the same fiscal year, including the county and schools, were $108,478,008. This was $41,599,314 more than the total payments of the year exclusive of the payments for permanent improvements, but $23,912,632 less than the total payments including those for permanent improvements. It was declared. Payments in excess of revenue receipts were met from the proceeds of debt obligations.

LARGE BOND ISSUES
Property taxes represented 82.4 per cent of the total revenue for 1925, 81 per cent for 1924 and 68.4 per cent for 1918, the statement points out. The increase in the amount of property taxes collected was 106.4 per cent from 1918 to 1924 and 30.3 per cent from 1918 to 1925. The amount of property taxes collected was $24,087,559 in 1925, $43,064,118 in 1924 and $16,791,950 in 1918.

The total indebtedness (fixed or floating debt less sinking fund assets) of Los Angeles on June 30, 1926, was $18,162,848. Of the total net indebtedness, $12,162,848 was for the county, and $6,000,000 for the schools.

In 1924, the net debt was $15,718,976 and in 1918, $44,706,226. The increase in the net debt reported for 1925 over that for 1924 was due to various bond issues, the largest amount for any one purpose being for schools.

For 1925, the assessed valuation of property in Los Angeles subject to ad valorem taxes for city purposes was $1,274,750,565. The levy for all purposes for 1925 was $35.546,926, of which $22,786,184, or

LONG BEACH GAINS
IN OPERATION COST

The total payments for expenses of the general departments and public service enterprises, interest and outlays, including schools, of the city of Long Beach for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1925, were $12,980,095. It was declared in a Department of Commerce bulletin received here yesterday.

Of this amount, the operation of the general departments cost $4,006,185, or 30.86 per cent, it was stated, as compared to $40,26 per cent for 1924. Payments for the operation of public service enterprises, including waterworks, gas-supply system, markets, docks, wharves, landings and cemeteries, amounted to $1,270,146; interest on debt, $354,642; and outlays for permanent improvements, including those for public service enterprises, $7,148,444.

SCHOOL COST INCREASES

The total payments for schools amounted to $2,534,107, $1,781,852 of which represents school maintenance, $208,780 interest on debt, and $1,599,608, school outlays.

A detailed statement of the sources of revenue and indebtedness up to the end of the fiscal year of 1925, was contained in the bulletin issued by the Department of Commerce, follows:

The total revenue receipts of Long Beach for 1925, including schools, was $11,165,087, or 126.67 per cent, this was $3,333,488 more than the total payments of the year exclusive of the payments for permanent improvements, but $1,815,008 less than the total payments including

HERBERT WENIG, Hollywood High School pupil, who recently won the national championship in the high school oratorical contest, will leave this morning for the European trip, which is part of the contest reward.

He will travel east over the Santa Fe and will arrive in New York Friday morning, where he will meet five of the other finalists in the contest and the party, conducted by Randolph Leigh, national director of the oratorical contest, will set sail for France on the United States liner Republic at 8 p.m. Saturday.

Joseph Mullerkey of Augusta, Ga., the finalist representing the southern zone in the contest, was also to have been a member of the party, each zone representative being entitled to participate in the European tour, but certain developments at Mullerkey's home made it impossible for the young man to accompany his fellow-orators.

The party will visit all the most important European cities and many of the most interesting of the historic places of that continent, including several of the battlefields of the World War. The oratorical champions of each of the continents have taken part in the contest which will compete for oratorical honors in Paris, London and Berlin.

Wenig has been the recipient of many honors since he returned about two weeks ago from Washington, where he won the championship at the national finals conducted in that city on the 4th inst. He has been much in demand as a speaker, his last appearance in Los Angeles before starting on his European trip being at the First Methodist Church last night, where he delivered his oration. Charles T. Murphy of Fordham University, winner of first place in the recent Intercollegiate Oratorical Contest, was also a speaker on this occasion, while Don Tyler, the Los Angeles boy who won the national championship in the high school contest of 1924, acted as chairman of the meeting.

Many persons have presented Wenig with various tokens of their regard on account of his oratorical achievements, but perhaps none that the young man prizes more than a picture of David Breakley, one of the those for permanent improvements.

These payments in excess of revenue receipts were met from the proceeds of debt obligations. The revenue receipts included for the school district amounted to $2,544,048. Property taxes represented 82.4 per cent of the total revenue for 1925 and 39.1 per cent for 1924. The increase in amount of property taxes collected was 33.3 per cent from 1924 to 1925. The per capita property taxes were $42.31 in 1925 and $33 in 1924.

Earnings of public-service enterprises operated by the city represented 21.5 per cent of the total revenue for 1925 and 12.8 per cent for 1924. The increase in the percentage of earnings of public-service enterprises for 1925 was due to greatly increased receipts by the gas-supply system which was taken over by the city in the latter part of 1924.

POLA HAS NEW LEADING MAN

Jack Holt Will Don Picturesque Hussar Uniforms; Alfred Santell Works East for First National; Alice Calhoun Home from Honeymoon

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

Now at last we are going to have our hearts gratified by the sight of Jack Holt in regimentals.

He for once the stalwart and gallant Mr. Holt is going to leave off the civilian clean young American civil engineer and the tough cowboy with the heart of gold to enter the realm of foreign heroes.

Pola Negri is the gayer of the two. She will be her leading man in "Hussar's Love Story," in the dashing lieutenant, Almay, in the role of Hussar.

The news is just forthcoming from the office of B. P. Schenberg, associate Paramount producer, following an intensive conference with Eric Pommer, the German director, who will supervise the picture, "a n d Maurice Stiller who will personally direct the picture, which is promising to be one of the most important pictures since "Fanny."

"The dramatic opportunities of the part are those which would make the most of," says Schenberg. "He is a splendid actor and should prove highly popular as the Hussar officer. Striking uniforms are only one phase of the romantic drama."

Miss Negri had Holt as a leading man once before, early in her American screen career. That occasion was in "The Cheat." At the present time, Holt is finishing in "Fanny," a new Zane Grey picture. He will be ready to start in "Hussar's Love Story" when the cameras whirling on July 7, next.

REX LEASE IN DANGER
We might have been shy one of our most promising juveniles but for a smiling fate which decreed his should be rescued from drowning after the rudeness of his yacht had broken and his boat was drifting helplessly two miles from shore.

Not to keep you in suspense any longer, Rex Lease, the young actor, was the property of Harry Alexander, a wealthy young Oklahoman.

Lease and Alexander were cruising up and down the coast of Long Beach last Saturday afternoon when the rudder of their craft broke as they were turning the boat at a sharp angle. They were two miles from shore with no lifeline aboard and no other ships near. Employing the fog horn to good purpose they finally, after an hour of drifting, were rescued by the attention of a fisherman's boat, and the fisherman towed the yacht into San Pedro.

BRIDE RETURNS FROM HONEYMOON
Alice Calhoun, who became Mrs. Silberburg only a few short weeks ago, has returned from her honeymoon and is settling down with her husband in Hollywood. Before, she is not deserting pictures, and will shortly resume her career as the camera. She has received two interesting offers, she says.

ALFRED SANTELL
Although Alfred Santell is a loyal native son of sunny California and is naturally pining for his new home in Beverly Hills, news comes from New York that the director must stay there the rest of the summer to produce another First National picture featuring that popular combination, Dorothy Mackall and Jack Muhlall. He has just completed his first production for the Al Rockett unit.

"Subway Sadie" has scored such a hit that it has been decided to produce another typically New York story, "Evening Star," by Gerald Beaumont, using the old and only Miss Island as the background. Miss Mackall and Jack Muhlall are being retained in "Evening Star," and Arthur Edson will also stay on to photograph the production. With the completion of this picture, Santell will immediately return to Los Angeles.

OUR HISTORY IN PICTURES

447 The Declaration of War.

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

THE BOMBARDMENT OF FORT SUMTER BEGAN THE CIVIL WAR. ON THE DAY AFTER THE FORT SURRENDERED (APRIL 15, 1861), PRESIDENT LINCOLN ISSUED A PROCLAMATION ASSERTING THAT THE LAWS OF THE UNITED STATES WERE OPPOSED IN SOUTH CAROLINA, GEORGIA, ALABAMA, FLORIDA, MISSISSIPPI, LOUISIANA AND TEXAS "BY COMBINATIONS TOO POWERFUL TO BE SUPPRESSED BY THE ORDINARY COURSE OF JUDICIAL PROCEEDING." HE CALLED ON THE STATES OF THE UNION FOR 75,000 SOLDIERS AND ORDERED ALL PERSONS CONCERNED IN THIS OUTBREAK TO DISPERSE WITHIN TWENTY DAYS.

WAR HAD COME AT LAST! THE NORTH AWOKE FROM ITS APATHY AND SPRANG TO ARMS. MOST OF THE MEN IN THE NORTHERN STATES HAD NOT CONCERNED THEMSELVES WITH THE SLAVERY QUESTION AND WERE WILLING THAT THE SOUTH SECEDE IN PEACE. BUT THE INSTANT THE "STARS AND STRIPES" WAS ATTACKED, THEY WERE ELECTRIFIED INTO IMMEDIATE ACTION.

EVERYWHERE, THROUGHOUT THE UNION, MEN CAME FLOCKING TO ANSWER THE PRESIDENT'S CALL. LINCOLN HAD ASKED FOR 75,000 MEN. MORE THAN 90,000 RESPONDED AND BY THE FIRST OF JULY THERE WERE OVER 300,000 UNITED STATES TROOPS UNDER ARMS.

LARGE CAMPS WERE ERECTED FOR THE MEN FROM OFFICES, FARM AND CITY. THEY LEARNED TO BE SOLDIERS, AND THE GREAT NORTHERN CITIZENS OF THE NATIONAL COLORS, BANDS AND MUSIC AND THE TRAMP OF MARCHING TOMORROW—THE SOUTH WERE TO BE THE CIVIL AFFAIRS HERE.

These daily history strips make a unique pictorial history of America. Hundreds are clipping them daily and pasting them in scrapbooks.

AKURA, June 27.—Looking toward the greatest advertising campaign ever attempted in the San Gabriel Valley, representatives of Monrovia, Arcadia, Azusa, Glendora, San Dimas, Covina, and Baldwin Park yesterday organized the Upper San Gabriel Valley Cities Association here and this week will launch a campaign to finance a publicity campaign through newspaper advertising.

The plan, as approved by the directors of the organization, is to carry a full-page advertisement, bi-monthly, in the Los Angeles Times, supplemented with reprint publicity distribution. The idea indicated was to popularize the district comprising these seven cities and their adjacent

The campaign will be prepared by S. H. Greager, Los Angeles advertising expert, who has conducted similar campaigns for the State of California.

The monthly cost of the campaign was estimated at $3000, which would be divided as follows: Aruadia, 5000 population, 13 per cent, $3160 annually; payable monthly in advance at the rate of $260. Monrovia, 12,000, 23 per cent, $2860 annually, $2380 month. Arusa, 6000, 16 per cent, $3180 ananually, $320 month. Windsor, 4000, 11 per cent, $3640 annually, $220 month. San Dimas, 2000, 8 per cent, $1300 annually, $160 month. Covina, 4000, 11 per cent, $3640 annually, $220 month. Baldwin Park, 4000, 11 per cent, $3640 annually, $220 month.

The association is a nonprofit organization and no salaries will be paid any of the officers.

The Wilmington Chamber of Commerce yesterday protested to the City Council against any disposal of the metropolitan district sewage in the ocean and recommended that an investigation be conducted to determine if sewage can be treated here.

The communication pointed out that in Berlin, Germany, sewage is treated and used on lands and said that here in Southern California where water is valuable, millions of dollars should not be spent to carry pose of it there. The communication was signed by President Frank McKinley and Secretary J. W. Weightman, secretary, as on behalf of the directors of the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce.
